DiSalle Points To Work Done By Democrats

Overflow Audience Hears Governor At Columbiana Rally

Ohio's Democratic administration has fulfilled the pledges in 31 of the 34 planks in its 1958 campaign platform — "a record to be proud of" — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told an overflow crowd of 567 Saturday night at party dinner in Joshua Dixon School.

Paying particular attention to the state welfare and educational programs, the governor told the audience that opposition claims of "extravagant" programs "are easily squelched with facts and figures."

"In a wealthy state like Ohio, it is extravagant to borrow money," the governor declared, referring to interest rates on bond issues. The new one-cent tax on gasoline will raise $29 million, helping avoid the need for deficit financing, he said.

DiSalle said that in the 10-year period from 1948 to 1958 the state expanded, over and above its ordinary revenue, $200 million and said the current administration had to make up that money.

He admitted that early in its session the recent Legislature had to do some "unpleasant" things, referring obliquely to tax increases, but charged the action was necessary because of "deficit" financing by the previous administration.

"With the cost of state government increasing, we have to do something to put our financial house in order, to put it on a pay as you go basis," he added.

"We need growth and need it badly. Without men and women at jobs it will be impossible to maintain the state as we would like it. One of the things we have to do is support a reasonable and decent program of growth."

Prior to his address, DiSalle conducted a brief ceremony honoring Mayor E. R. Calvin of Columbiana, who was presented with a trophy which the governor described as representing "the esteem and appreciation of fellow citizens in Columbiana for outstanding civic service."

The governor was introduced by Rep. Wayne L. Hays of the 18th Ohio Congressional District, which includes Columbiana County.

Probate Judge Louis Tobin of East Liverpool was master of ceremonies. He was introduced by Mayor John Todd of Lisbon.

Don R. Gosney, county Democratic chairman, introduced county officials and special guests, including Everett S. Preston, State Highway Department director.

Introduction of various city and village candidates was made by Mrs. Kay Blackburn of Columbiana, county Democratic chairwoman.

The governor flew in from Columbus by private plane for the party rally and was met at Youngstown airport.

U.S. Had Only 2 Bombs For Blast At Japs

WASHINGTON (AP) — America had only two atomic bombs when the decision was made to drop them on Japan in World War II, according to a posthumously published interview with Gen. George C. Marshall.

The magazine U.S. News & World Report, in a copyrighted article today, said Marshall granted the interview to one of its editors, John P. Sutherland, in 1954 and 1955 with the understanding it would not be published until after his death.

The soldier-diplomat died Oct. 16. Marshall said in the interview that America's military leaders had no idea of the destructive power of the A-bomb until one was exploded in New Mexico on July 16, 1945. Even after that, he said, there was no clear-cut plan on how to use the new weapon.

"When we got the bombs we had to use them in the best possible way to save American lives," he said. "I heard all kinds of discussions on how we should use the first one. Some wanted to drop it on the Sea of Japan. But we didn't know how it would work in water. It might be a dud, or get out of control. We just didn't know."

"Others wanted to drop it in a rice paddy to save the lives of the Japanese. But we only had two, and the situation demanded shock action. After using the two bombs against Japan, there would be nothing in reserve."

Until the awesome power of the bomb became known, it had been planned to use nine of them in an invasion of Japan, Marshall said. The invasion was set for Sept. 23, 1945. Japan surrendered on Aug. 14, eight days after the first A-bomb was dropped on Hiroshima.

Planning Contract Let For Shippingport Span

The Pennsylvania State Highway Department today announced award of a $210,000 design contract for an Ohio River bridge at Shippingport to Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester.

The contract calls for completion of plans in 12 months. Baker has said the work can be completed in 6 to 9 months. The bridge will cost $5 million. It will link Route 168 south with Route 68 north, with interchanges at both ends.

The contract also calls for an alternate location study for a 3-mile lane connecting the Shippingport approach and Route 18 south of the community. The bridge was authorized by the 1956 State Assembly as a toll span.

2 From U.S. Win Physics Nobel Prize

Segre, Chamberlain To Split $42,606 For Their Discovery

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Two American atomic scientists today were awarded the 1959 Nobel physics prize for the discovery of the anti-proton, proving that matter exists in two forms, as particles and anti-particles.

The physics winners are Italian-born Emilio Segre, 54, and Dr. Owen Chamberlain, 39, born in San Francisco. Both are attached to the University of California at Berkeley.

Segre and Chamberlain are the 17th and 18th Americans to win the Nobel physics award. They will divide $42,606.

The Swedish Academy of Sciences, which awards the prizes provided by the inventor of dynamite, the late Alfred Nobel, said the discovery of the American nuclear physicists was one of cosmic implications.

Using the giant atom-smashing bevatron at Berkeley, Calif., they found that by clashing their newly discovered anti-proton and a proton together, both dissolved into light.

The awarding body said the anti-proton—the electrically negative mirror image of the proton, or hydrogen nucleus — had been predicted 30 years ago by Paul Dirac of Britain, who shared the 1933 Nobel Prize with Erwin Schroedinger of Berlin University.

The discovery by Segre and Chamberlain of the anti-proton was heralded as an important step toward introducing some order into the bewildering micro-world of some 30 odd sub-atomic particles known to scientists today. The two physicists published their findings in the fall of 1955.

The two winners were assisted in their work by Dr. Clyde Weigand and Dr. Thomas Ypsilantis of the California University staff.

Employee Saves Money From Turnpike Bandits

Two gunmen held up a toll collector at the Gateway Interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike near East Palestine Sunday night, but got only a bagful of toll tickets for their trouble.

A bag containing $1,400 in cash went unnoticed by the bandits after it was kicked under a desk by toll collector James H. Statterfield, 40, of Enon Valley R. D. 1.

State police said the bandits, followed Statterfield into the toll office when he went to check in his day's receipts.

Statterfield was carrying two brown bags — one with the tickets and the other containing money. He immediately dropped the money bag and kicked it under the desk.

Anti-U.S. Feeling Goes Up In Cuba

Castro's Aides Plan Rally To Protest Foreign Aggression

HAVANA (AP) — Anti-American feeling mounted in Havana today as Fidel Castro's supporters beat the drums to marshal a million Cubans for a rally protesting "foreign aggression" against the revolutionary regime.

The Cuban Labor Confederation set the stage for the mammoth show of loyalty ordered by the prime minister to support Cuban demands that the United States prevent anti-Castro Cubans in Florida from flying over Cuba dropping leaflets and arms.

More than a million badges reading "against foreign aggression" were prepared for the demonstrators. A general work shutdown was declared for noon in Havana and three neighboring provinces to bring out a huge crowd before the presidential palace.

Blaring sound trucks and the pro-government press and radio kept up the cry against the intruders from abroad.

The government charges that two mystery planes which dropped anti-Castro leaflets on Havana in daylight last Wednesday came from the United States. As the planes flew over the city, hit-and-run gangs sped through the city in cars, throwing bombs and grenades.

Two Cubans were killed and about 50 injured, and Castro charged that the planes dropped bombs as well as leaflets. But some witnesses said the casualties resulted from the automobile gangs and from the fire of army personnel shooting wildly at the planes.

Since then individual light planes have slipped through Cuban air force patrols several times to drop anti-Castro leaflets on the capital or its suburbs.

The fiery prime minister has repeatedly denounced the United States for giving refuge to Cuban enemies of his revolutionary regime whom he has branded as war criminals.

A group of 73 professional, civic and religious organizations sent a cable to the U.S. Congress protesting the air activity and urging deportation of Cuban counter-revolutionaries in the United States.

Damp, Chilly Weather Due Tonight, Tuesday

Damp, cold weather is due again tonight and Tuesday, the Ohio forecast said.

He said it will be mostly cloudy and continued cool today, tonight and Tuesday with occasional rain beginning tonight and continuing tomorrow. The high today will be 45-50 and the low tonight will be 40-45.

Rain and raw temperatures marked most of the weekend. Dam 8 at Newell recorded a high of 47 Sunday at 1 p. m. The overnight low was 43.

New Campaign Opened

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet publicists have opened a new campaign to convince the West that complete disarmament offers it better economic opportunities than continuance of the arms race.

At the same time Soviet organs make clear that there is no change in the Communist creed that capitalism is doomed whether or not it is shored up by arms production.

This is one of the main themes being beamed abroad and the emphasis on it is likely to increase. Domestically the point hammered home by every possible means is that Premier Nikita Khrushchev wants peace and prosperity.

Not since Stalin's 70th birthday has any event been so publicized as Khrushchev's trip to the United States. Daily mass meetings throughout the Soviet Union praise the Premier for having made the trip which speakers say has convinced the American people of the sincerity of the Soviet desire for peace.

Every issue of every newspaper and magazine stresses the same theme. There is a color film about the trip and a new book, "To Live in Peace and Friendship."

Ohio Traffic Kills 20 More On Weekend

2 Youngsters Die In Home Mishaps To Boost Total To 22

The weather was bad throughout Ohio for much of the weekend. The traffic death toll, always serious, was even worse than usual.

It rose sharply from the 10 traffic deaths reported during the 6 p. m. Friday-to-midnight-Sunday survey period a week ago. At that time, Highway Safety Department officials suggested pinpointing danger areas might lead to a reduction in deaths and injuries.

But multi-death accidents Friday night, Saturday and Sunday pushed the weekend toll to 20 dead in traffic. Again this week there were no fire deaths, but two youngsters died in miscellaneous accidents.

Safety officials have long wondered if poor weather has an effect on traffic death figures. Many believe poor weather keeps more motorists and pedestrians at home safe, at least, from traffic danger.

Police reports indicate the weather played a part in only a few of this weekend's fatal accidents.

Reds Claim 7 Indians Held As Prisoners

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Seven of 17 Indian policemen reported killed in a border clash with Red Chinese troops are alive and prisoners of the Communists, the Peiping government has informed India.

A new Chinese note, delivered over the weekend, said bodies of nine Indian policemen had been recovered after the clash Wednesday in the Ladakh area of Kashmir state. The 17th policeman now is presumed missing.

The Indian government said the note also spoke of some Chinese casualties but did not say how many.

The Chinese also reported they are holding three Indians captured last Tuesday in the Ladakh area. Apparently these are two policemen and a porter who failed to return from a patrol that day.

India claimed that the police patrol was ambushed Wednesday by Chinese troops 40 miles inside the Ladakh sector, one of two frontier regions claimed by both countries into which Chinese troops have moved. The Chinese claimed the Indians were the aggressors.

The Chinese attack drew sharp criticism Sunday from a Communist member of the Indian Parliament, A. K. Gopalan.

Gopalan warned Peiping that if such incidents continued China would lose completely the friendship of the Indian people. He asked an immediate end to the attacks.

Irondale Plans Curfew To Reduce Vandalism

IRONDALE — One short blast on a fire siren tonight at 9 will signal the beginning of a week-long curfew for youths in an effort to curb Halloween vandalism.

Mayor Quenton Henderson said all youths 16 or younger must be off village streets by 9 each night this week.

Village officials considered eliminating the Halloween curfew this year but several complaints of minor vandalism over the weekend necessitated the action, the mayor said.

Rockefeller Urges U.S. Resume A-Tests

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller urges that the United States resume nuclear test explosions, which have been halted since Aug. 22, 1958.

Rockefeller, a potential candidate for the Republican presidential nomination next year, discussed nuclear tests and other issues Sunday in answer to questions by young people on a television program.

Crash Series Hurts 2 Men; Drivers Cited

Wellsville Motorist Hospitalized After W. 8th St. Mishap

A Wellsville man remains in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with injuries suffered Saturday afternoon when his car was rammed by a Cleveland's auto on W. 8th St.

The mishap, in which the Cleveland motorist was charged with drunken driving, was one of 9 recorded over the weekend, police reported. An East End man was injured in one of the crashes and a Chester driver was cited after another collision, officers said.

Francis M. Connors, 24, of 311 2nd St., Wellsville, suffered injuries of the neck, chest and abdomen in the collision at 3 p. m. Saturday at W. 8th and Chestnut Sts. in which three cars were damaged.

Wilbur Crawford, 33, of Cleveland was fined $300 and costs, sentenced to 10 days in jail and had his driver's license revoked for six months on the drunk driving charge filed as an aftermath of the crash. He pleaded guilty at the hearing today before Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw.

Police said Connors was stopped in the westbound lane when his car was struck in the rear by Crawford's 1957 sedan which was traveling "very fast."

After the crash, Crawford backed up and struck the left rear fender of a 1953 sedan operated by Barton Wayne Barnard, 41, of Lisbon St., halted in the outside westbound lane. The Clevelander then pulled forward a short distance and stopped, police were told by witnesses.

Father, 5 Children Die From Gas Fumes

CHELSEA, Mass. (AP) — A father and five of his six children were found dead in their home Sunday, victims of gas asphyxiation caused by a defective hot water heater.

Police said carbon monoxide fumes apparently filled the house while the father was heating water for the children's Saturday night baths.

A sixth child, 8 weeks old, was being cared for by relatives while the mother, Marguerite, 44, was in a hospital for treatment of varicose veins.

The victims were Frank Esplanola, 60, a groundskeeper at Boston's American League baseball park; and Ronald, 14; Nancy, 12; Joseph, 9; Philip, 7, and Kenneth, 5.

Firm Denies Agreement On Contract

Says Negotiations Will Be Started In Washington Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Kaiser Steel Corp. today broke away from industry-wide negotiations in the 104-day steel strike and announced it would bargain separately with the United Steelworkers Union.

Edgar F. Kaiser, board chairman, made the announcement in Washington only hours after the industry had announced that Kaiser had reached a separate agreement with the union.

Union negotiators were scheduled to meet separately today with 95 other strike-idled steel firms.

The announcement that Kaiser, the nation's 12th largest steel producer, had reached agreement with the union was signed by the 11 other major steel firms. It did not say, however, that the agreement had been signed. Kaiser had been a member of the 12 steel firms bargaining as a unit.

By itself, Kaiser's statement did not deny that Kaiser had reached agreement, but instead explained why he had decided to bargain separately.

Later, Norman Nicholson, assistant to Kaiser, agreed to clarify the situation further. He denied that any agreement had been reached and added that negotiations would begin in Washington today.

Others of the industry said Kaiser's bolt from the ranks would not alter their position to resist what they called an inflationary wage increase.

Kaiser, which employs 10,615 of the half-million United Steelworkers, produces nearly 1,500,000 tons of steel a year—two per cent of the national output.

"We believe the decision to bargain separately with the union is the only responsible step we can take in the face of mounting national emergency caused by this 104-day strike," Kaiser said in his statement.

"Several days ago," he continued, "we advised the industry members that we would stand with the industry until 6 p. m. October 25 and if we were not convinced at that time that a settlement was near we would start separate negotiations."

The surprise move came as the big producers, who have been coordinating negotiations efforts, were reported today to make new money concessions to settle the strike. Kaiser had been included in the coordinating group.

All of the peace efforts are going on against a background realization that a Taft-Hartley injunction—presently inactive because of a union appeal—could go into effect anytime and end the strike at least for 30 days.

The U.S. Third Circuit Court at Philadelphia is studying the union appeal. A decision could come anytime this week—most likely today or tomorrow. The U.S. Dis-

Verdict On Injunction To Be Given Tuesday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The decision by the U.S. 3rd Circuit Court of Appeals on whether the striking United Steelworkers Union must return to work under a Taft-Hartley law injunction or may continue their walkout will be given at 4 p. m. Tuesday.

The court clerk made the announcement today on behalf of Judges John Biggs Jr., William H. Hastie and Herbert Goodrich. The three-judge court heard arguments last Thursday.

It is expected that the Circuit Court decision will be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court, whichever way the ruling goes.

Arthur J. Goldberg, chief counsel for the union, has said he plans to go to the nation's highest court if the verdict is against the union. Should the court rule in favor of the union, the government also has indicated it will appeal to the Supreme Court.

Ave., Wellsville, who was stopped behind Bernard's auto, and James Bailey, 1615 Pennsylvania Ave., a pedestrian, agreed with the statements given police by Connors and Bernard. Crawford was unable to make a statement, police said.

Police said there was heavy damage to the front end of Crawford's auto and the rear end of Connors' 1957 sedan. The rear fender of the Bernard car also was damaged, officers said.

John Holland, 39, of 1790 Pennsylvania Ave. was treated at City Hospital for injuries received Saturday night when his car crashed into a utility pole on Pennsylvania Ave., 150 feet east of Dewey Ave.

The hospital said Holland suffered contusions of the right side of his head, jaw and right hand.

Police said there was extensive damage to the entire left side of the 1955 sedan, but had no details of the mishap.

James M. Humes, 62, of Box 25, Chester, forfeited a $31 bond today in court on a charge of driving without an operator's license. He was cited shortly before 3 p. m. Saturday after his truck scraped the right side of a 1956 coupe operated by Phyllis G. Doughty, 20, of R. D. 2 at Jefferson and W. 4th Sts.

Humes said he was pulling from the curb as the woman turned west onto W. 4th St. and the vehicles scraped. The front bumper of his truck was damaged, police said.

A collision at 11:24 a. m. Saturday on W. 9th St. near May St. involved a westbound car driven by David Ray Deyarmon, 19, of 929 Florence St. and an Inter-City Transit Co. bus driven by Harold W. Huston, 26, of 315 West St., East Palestine.

A crash on Broadway at 1 p. m. Saturday involved a 1959 sedan operated by Evelyn L. Jolly, 31, of Cannons Mills and a backing car operated by Donald Wilson, 623 Monroe St., police said.

The woman told officers she had stopped in the line of traffic and the rear fender of her car was struck by Wilson, backing from a parking space.

Kenneth A. Hickman of W. 7th and Jackson Sts. told police the door and rear fender of his 1956 auto was damaged by a hit-skip motorist while parked in Jackson Sq. between 1 a. m. and 1 p. m. Sunday.

Cars operated by James A. Brown, 22, of 1909 Harvey Ave. and H. K. Rogers, 815 Cadmus St., were involved in a crash at 2:35 p. m. Sunday at McKinnon Ave. and Anderson Blvd.

Brown said he was headed east on McKinnon and starting to turn onto Anderson Blvd. when the Rogers car came up Anderson Blvd. and struck him. The door of Brown's 1959 sedan was damaged but there was no damage to the Rogers car, police said.

A collision at 10:15 a. m. Saturday at E. 4th and Washington Sts. damaged cars operated by Robert I. Dunn, 17, of St. Clair Ave. Ext. and John E. Sachs, 1060 St. Clair Ave. The mishap was reported to police headquarters at 7 p. m.

Wet pavement was blamed for a mishap at 2:20 a. m. Sunday on Market St., police said.

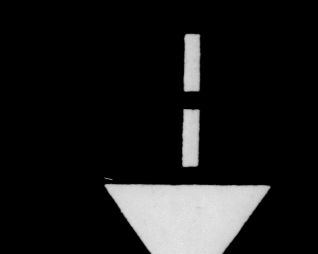

Jack L. Duncan, 26, of 1235 St. George St. driving south in a 1954 convertible owned by Robert Atkins, 912 Railroad St., told police his car skidded on the wet pavement when he tried to halt for a traffic signal.

His car skidded into a parked car owned by George M. Nara of Cleveland, damaging the left front fender, police said.

trict Court in Pittsburgh issued the injunction last week.

Once before, USW President David J. McDonald succeeded in getting negotiations broken down to the company level. That was in New York nearly a month ago and nothing came of it.

The latest company-by-company contract talks were arranged by McDonald nearly 48 hours before the Kaiser development. Both the union and the industry are under a circuit court directive to keep negotiations going.

There are unconfirmed reports that at least one other of the "Big 12" companies is considering signing a separate labor agreement. Commenting on the Kaiser development, a statement signed by the other 11 firms said:

"Undoubtedly, this action was dictated by circumstances peculiar to the Kaiser interests which are also engaged in the aluminum industry and which must therefore deal with the steelworkers' union as a representative of their employees in both industries."

The other 11 companies estimated the Kaiser agreement—if they adopted it—would cost them between 45 and 50 cents per man hour during the life of a three year contract.

DiSalle Declines Investigation Of County Infirmary

Invited earlier this month to investigate the Columbiana County Home, Gov. Michael DiSalle Saturday night at a Democratic dinner at Columbiana, declined the offer because he considered it under local jurisdiction, in which he had no part.

The governor had been asked by County Commissioner Frank Wilson of Wellsville about two weeks ago to investigate the management of the home.

Gov. DiSalle said Saturday: "The home is a local institution under jurisdiction of local officials. As such it would be an unwarranted intrusion on my part to attempt to interject myself into the situation."

Wilson had said he received complaints about the operations of the home under Supt. Russell Phillips, appointed by a previous board of commissioners. Wilson said "politics is not involved."

A $989,000 bond issue is on the Nov. 3 general ballot for a new home to replace the nearly 100-year-old structures which are in need of extensive repair.

WHY TAXATION?

There are just two possible ways to finance the needs of the City Hospital—public subscription or taxation. You know what public subscription means. A small group of citizens carrying the burden, with a large shrinkage for collection and non-payment. Taxation distributes the burden among a large group, paying small amounts, and means that the City Hospital, which belongs to the people, will be aided by all taxpayers in such small amounts that it will not be a burden to anyone.

Hospital operating expenses are constantly increasing due to federal and state requirements.

Admissions to the hospital have increased steadily over the years, attesting the need of a constantly expanding hospital.

The County Home Bond Issue

A $989,000 bond issue for a new county home will be among the questions to be decided by Columbiana County residents when they go to the polls Nov. 3.

There is no doubt as to the need for a new home. We have inspected the present facilities—as have others—and have observed firsthand the many deplorable conditions that exist.

An attic dormitory where mentally unstable men are locked in at night; a dank basement corridor where patients watch a television set propped up on rough boxes; crude toilets; sagging floors; steep and narrow stairways—that is home for 123 aged residents of the county.

These are some of the major eyesores. There are many, many lesser ones. If you can't believe that such conditions exist, study the pictures at the right. They tell the story well.

And over all hangs the dread threat of fire. Should flames break out, the tragic loss of lives would be shocking, barring a miracle.

THE CONDITIONS should not be considered a reflection on the present superintendent at the home, his staff or the county commissioners. It's a case of the physical structure falling apart at the seams after a lifetime of service.

The T-shaped main building dates back to shortly after the Civil War and the mental building has been in use for more than 90 years. The hospital is more modern, being about 25 years old, but in need of repairs and remodeling.

The home's physical properties have deteriorated to the point where it doesn't make much sense economically to keep pouring money into the operation in return for all that can be realized.

Health authorities have recommended immediate corrections of certain hazards at the home, adding "it is impossible to make specific recommendations since other conditions are mainly beyond repair." Building inspectors have ordered plumbing improvements, already granting two extensions on the deadline for the work.

We re-emphasize, there is need for a new home.

However, when nearly a million dollars of the taxpayers' money is involved—and there will be an additional levy necessary for proper maintenance—it isn't merely a matter of a "yes" or "no" vote. Instead it's a matter of trying to make certain that the best possible use is made of the funds that would be realized from the bond issue.

This was brought into focus sharply during a recent exploratory meeting between county officials and civic leaders from various communities.

ONE OF THE questions in our mind—and in the minds of others—is whether the present plans for a 150-bed home would prove adequate. This leads to another question: Could not some of the services provided under the proposed plans be revised in the interest of more bed space?

As pointed out, the commissioners are well aware of the need for comprehensive planning on the project. They have promised to explore every possible avenue and consider every possible need for the aged before arriving at any final plans for the home.

There is sufficient time for proper planning since, even should the bond issue be approved, it would be some time before actual building operations could begin.

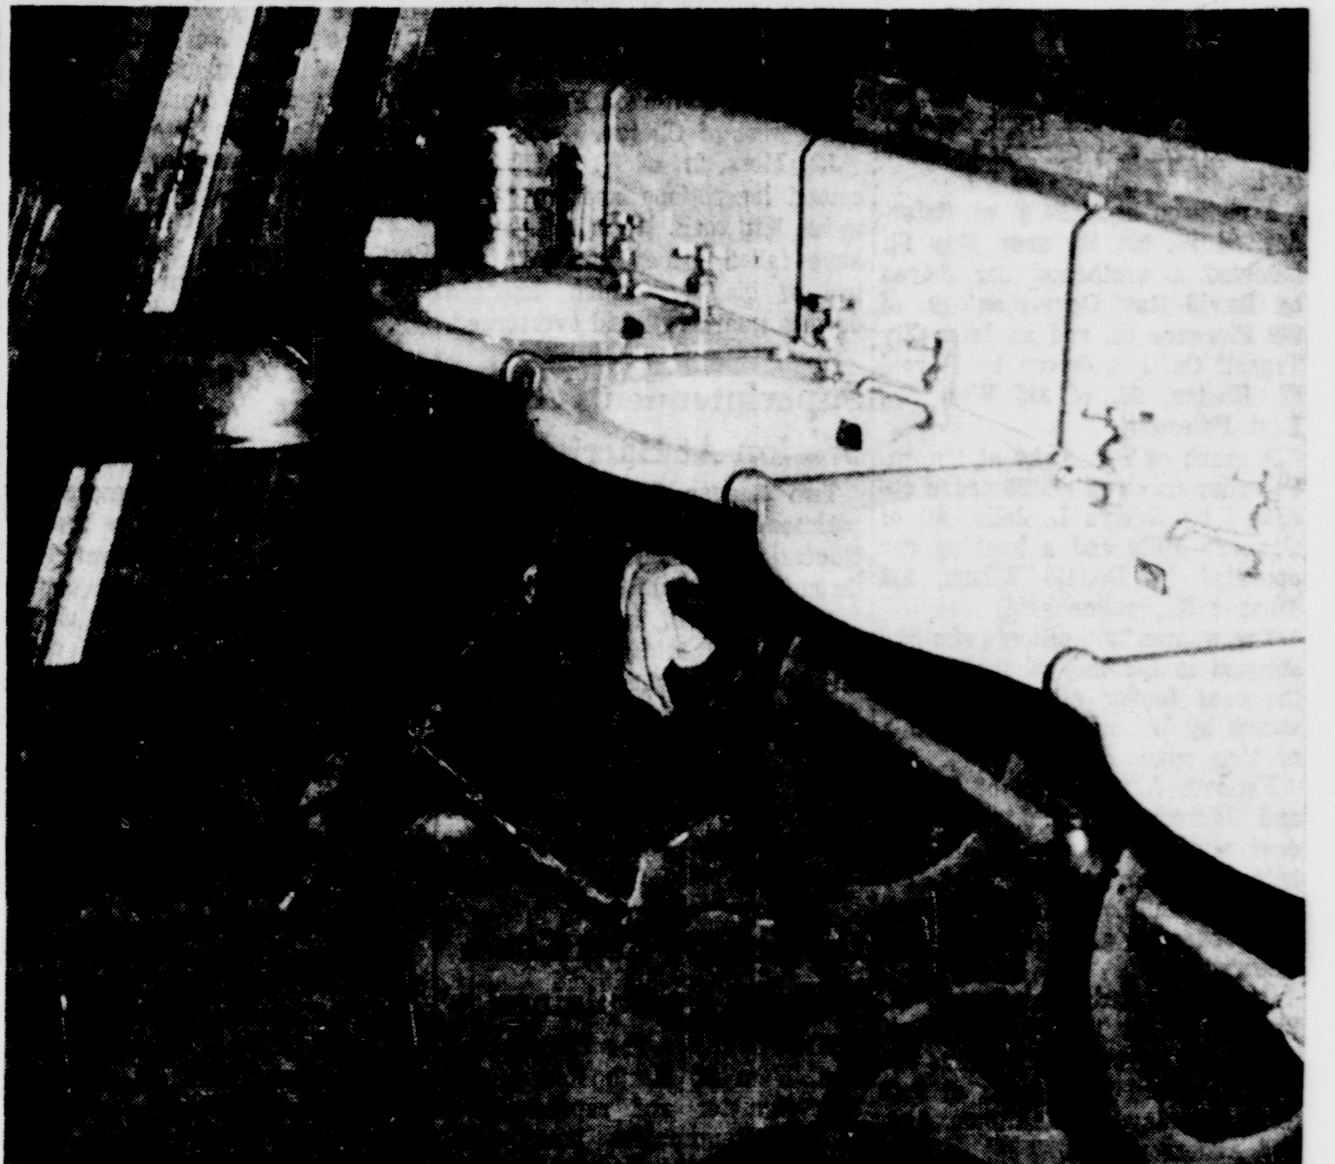

But there's no use planning further if there's no money to carry out the plans. Thus, the bond issue comes first.

The choice that faces the voters is whether to keep putting out money for mandatory improvements and repairs and still have an inadequate and costly home for the aged or whether to invest a sizable sum in a new home which looms as a sound solution to a problem that will become more complex and more pressing yearly.

The cost of the new home, under present figures presented by the commissioners, would amount to about $1.44 a year to the average taxpayer, over a period of 23 years.

Firm in the belief that a new home is the most sensible answer to the problem and confident that the commissioners will keep their promise to see to it that the money will be used to the best possible advantage, The Review recommends passage of the bond issue on Nov. 3.

This Is The Place That The Aged Call 'Home'

No Popular Demand So Far

A revealing comment about Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's availability for a presidential nomination has been made by James Reston of The New York Times after watching the attractive New Yorker on the political stump in Chicago.

"There is little evidence here," observed Reston in Chicago, "that the party as a whole has really put its mind to the Nixon-Rockefeller issue."

Reston then declared that the New York governor had his work cut out for him among Republican party insiders, who had no reason to think the party's nomination should be kept from the vice president. If the New Yorker tried to build a boom for himself among the people, because he still had much to learn about the art of stumping, he bobbed important details, such as sounding the "s" in the last syllable of Illinois and ignoring the farm problem.

THE IMPORTANT thing about the presumption that Vice President Nixon will be challenged by Gov. Rockefeller to prove he has and can keep the inside track in the run for the 1960 nomination is the fact it is causing no excitement.

Whatever effort has been made so far in the New Yorker's behalf has not been enough to attract notice. Even the increase in Mr. Nixon's rate of speechmaking has not made the impression he is conscious of being in a contest for public favor, or even that he is stepping up his efforts to win favor among the professionals and full-time volunteers who dominate party conventions.

This is in contrast to the elbowing and footwork going on among Democratic hopefuls and wishfuls. No one conscious of politics can be unconscious of the jockeying for position among so many eager aspirants for Democratic favor.

VICE PRESIDENT NIXON'S inside track belongs to him by right of service and seniority. He has not had to elbow anyone aside to get it, and therefore it is natural to believe he should not have to use his elbows to keep it. This is likely to be Gov. Rockefeller's toughest problem if he tries to move into the same position.

The report by The Times that the governor found no significant interest in what he must do if he aims to get anywhere against Nixon shows him where he stands.

That is what he wants to find out. There is no strident demand for a knock-down-and-drag-out fight over the Republican presidential nomination in 1960. It doesn't guarantee there won't be one. But there is no demand for one.

Tennis At Home

The tennis courts to be built at Thompson Park will fill a gap in the city's recreational program.

Up to this time, those interested in baseball, basketball, football, volley ball, bowling and other forms of sport have enjoyed the necessary facilities. With the exception of a few private courts, tennis enthusiasts were left out in the cold. If they wanted to play, they had to hop in a car and visit courts in nearby communities.

Come next summer, however, they can play their tennis at home.

Thompson Park, which has served the district so adequately over the years, will become even a greater recreational attraction with the addition of tennis and shuffleboard.

The announcement of the Board of Park Commissioners was a welcome one.

By H. I. Phillips

5. You can wash it with a mere wrist motion and garage it under your house awnings.
6. You can at least hope that some service station will offer a bargain rate of two cars repaired for price of one.

UNCLE SAM NEEDS a Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Men of Good Intentions. He has spent his life helping others and is vilified as an exploiter.

He has twice jumped off the deep end to rescue the perishing and is denounced as a warmonger, a troublemaker and a selfish adult delinquent. He has made it a career to bring self-government and democracy to other nations, dishing out billions out of his own pocket and is called a hard-boiled defender of colonial systems.

He has put himself in a hole as a Good Samaritan and finds gratitude expressed in "Yank, Go Home" signs.

He gave the world Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson and finds there are nations which call them the Three Stooges. He holds the world record as the fastest picker-upper of checks, the greatest distributor of financial aid and the all-time global free spending champ but has to listen to people denouncing him as Ebenezer Scrooge.

He has been first in sympathy, first in understanding, first in compassion and first in relief work, yet is asked to stand last in line among those requesting a little gratitude and a couple of fairly distinct cheers.

The least the rest of the world might do for him is to send him a Christmas card. But it's doubtful if he will get even that.

Symington Available

By Raymond Moley

At this distant moment there is considerable speculation that a deadlock during the Democratic convention next summer is more probable than possible and that the nomination will fall not to the man who herds the most delegates to Los Angeles but to one who bides his time and is chosen in a compromise move by the powers assembled.

The man most frequently mentioned as likely to receive this tap is Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Of all Democrats considered to have a chance now, Symington is perhaps least vulnerable when the crossfire from the widely separated flanks of the party is brought to bear on the field of hopefuls.

While he is not warmly acceptable to any faction, neither is he the target of other possible candidates at present. He is an unusually opportune position for any deadlock situation. It is also an incongruous position.

SYMINGTON'S voting record since 1952, unlike Hubert Humphrey's, has not been marked indelibly across the awareness of party professional and voters by outbursts and harangues. He is not identified with the South, as is Johnson.

That a man could compile a voting record absolutely in tune with the stern score of the Americans for Democratic Action and yet move with ease and acceptance among Southern conservatives is a striking thing.

That Symington can down a picnic lunch with the most militant labor officials and follow it with dinner among leaders of industry and business without a touch of discomfort is evidence of a remarkable political and gastronomic makeup.

Although he lacks imagination and leadership in the Senate, Symington of all avowed or probable contenders has the broadest practical experience.

Business decisions were his stock-in-trade for many years. After Yale, he worked as a molder and a draftsman. Then, backed by his prosperous uncles, he bought a clay products factory.

His was a story of large success, demonstrated agility, shrewdness, a talent for getting along with organized labor, and a certain touch in reviving faltering enterprises.

His most notable achievement came when he reorganized the Emerson Electric Manufacturing Company. He instilled vigor in the operation and expanded its activities, which had been confined to the production of small electric motors. And he became a wealthy man.

While fellow senators, Johnson,

Kennedy and Humphrey have spent their public life as legislators and candidates, Symington and Stevenson have been in the administration of government—Stevenson as a state governor, Symington in a number of positions in the federal government tendered him by an ex-Missouri senator, Harry S. Truman.

SYMINGTON gained experience at the hands of bureaucracy as Surplus Property Administration, where he remained for only a few months in a very sticky situation, and in a brief stint as "clean-up man" for RFC.

He had already made a considerable reputation as assistant secretary for air and Air Force secretary. He fought side by side with the flying generals and helped gain autonomy and the lion's share of military appropriations for the Air Force.

This experience in a branch of government now deeply involved in missiles and what Democrats are certain to label "the tardy conquest of space" is a fortuitous blessing for Symington.

Defense and space technology will undoubtedly figure large in a Democratic campaign against the Republican administration. For 10 years Symington has been most vocal on shortcomings in defense.

He has, in fact, been audible on little else, although his voting record is clean when scanned by those on the left end of the Democratic party's spectrum.

In the frustrating, wearing hours that attend the balloting of a deadlocked convention, practical men eventually get together. If this should happen, Symington, an outstanding vote-getter in a state that is both North and South, could look most attractive.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — City Solicitor Frank H. Hoover was named chairman of the East Liverpool Chapter of the American Red Cross.

More than 140 decorated floats and automobiles competed in the parade which featured the annual Mardi Gras at Chester under auspices of the Board of Trade.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — The WPA Dramatic Club held its first meeting in the North Side Fire station.

Robert M. Bauer of Riley Ave., service officer, chaplain, and past commander of East Liverpool Chapter 4, DAV, was recommended for the position as aid-de-camp to the national commander.

John Smith was returned as Scoutmaster of Troop 12 of the First Presbyterian Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — The Jolly Boys Quartet, with Tiny Fisher as announcer, entertained 55 members and guests of the Rotary Club at the Travelers Hotel.

The East Liverpool Area Girl Scout Council made plans for the annual Juliette Low Tea in the First Methodist Church.

The Doukhobors

For Canada's rebellious Doukhobors, one door to the future is opening as another slams shut.

The closed door is Russia's reported refusal to accept the religious sect's extremists. These members had asked to return to the homeland abandoned by their fathers and grandfathers some 60 years ago.

The new avenue of hope is seen in the fact that the Sons of Freedom, as the Doukhobors' dissident minority calls itself, have at last agreed to obey Canadian laws and send their children to school.

Behind the two events lies a drama of three centuries of struggle in the lives of a people who rank among the most stubborn and dedicated of the world has ever known. The Doukhobor movement originated in Tsarist Russia during the 17th century. Its founders rallied a group of serfs and peasants who dared challenge the arbitrary tenets and ritual of the Orthodox Church.

As the sect's influence grew, the name "Doukhobor," which means spirit wrestler or fighter, was first used by the official priesthood as a term of derision for the rebels. The Doukhobors, however, cannily adopted the designation as signifying those who fight in behalf of the Divine Spirit. Though they eventually called themselves Christians of the Universal Brotherhood, the more picturesque name stuck.

By Charles P. Arnot

CAIRO

The world's largest man-made lake will flood the homes of 60,000 Egyptians and Sudanese within the next decade — if Gamal Abdel Nasser can reach a Nile waters agreement with the Sudan.

Egyptian experts say this will be the break of a lifetime for those who are made homeless.

These 60,000 live in what will become the reservoir of the "dream project" of the Egyptian revolution — the one-billion, 120-million-dollar Aswan High Dam.

They will be the first to benefit from the massive project which President Nasser hopes will bring a new social revolution to his desert republic.

LONG BEFORE the Nile waters start to back up behind the Aswan Dam, the residents of the 300-mile area just behind the project will be compensated and provided with new homes. With few exceptions, they will find conditions far superior in their new locations.

The bulk of these potential "victims" of the Aswan Dam now live on a desert plateau which hangs over the Nile in the region overlapping southern Egypt and northern Sudan.

This is the area known as ancient Nubia, once a kingdom ruling both southern Egypt and vast areas of Africa. The area still abounds with relics attesting to a once-glorious civilization.

Today the Nubian villages perch on the edge of the Nile plateau. Their inhabitants live from scanty farming on the river's banks. When the river floods in late summer, their farmland is covered with water.

WHEN THE WATERS recede, the Nubians plant their crops and manage to grow just enough food to keep alive. The annual per capita income is less than $100.

Because of the poverty and the lack of opportunity, a steady stream of Nubians heads for Cairo and Alexandria to find work as servants. Their honesty and willingness to work incredibly long hours for low pay make them top-priority domestic servants.

These servants work 12 to 14 hours daily for as little as $10 a month. From this income they send money home to support wives, children and mothers along the upper Nile.

Most of the displaced Nubians will be moved down the river to reclaimed land in Egypt's irrigated area.

Letters To The Editor

I have been reading your editorials in the Review for some time and feel quite certain that they have been somewhat one-sided.

I am sure that there are quite a number of union members other than the steelworkers and also other folk not affiliated with the union who would like an explanation why the steel strike is not settled, especially after reading Victor Riesel's column in The Review Oct. 24. Can you explain it?

I personally believe that instead of the headlines you had on the front page today, this is what they should have read: "Two Reasons Why 500,000 Steelworkers And Quite A Few Hundred Other Workers Are Not Working Today."

I think that by the time they had finished reading they would know why there are so many hundred people not having a pay these days.

JAMES F. CUNNINGHAM
149 Reynolds St.

I read an account in The Review of Oct. 20 where Mr. Gard had visited our county home and found it in a deplorable condition.

As a resident of Columbiana County, I visited the home more than two weeks ago with Frank Wilson and others. Frank has made several trips taking different carloads of citizens to visit the home. It has been in a deplorable condition for some time but Mr. Wilson was the one commissioner who took enough interest in the home to take citizens out there and got the people to talking.

I think that if there is ever a new home built that Frank should have credit. He has done the work. It's time Columbiana citizens wake up to the facts about our old folks and the way they are treated.

Columbiana's Mayoral Race Is Three-Way

COLUMBIANA — A triple-race for mayor and contests for all other village posts will draw voter attention in general election on Nov. 3.

Mayor Erwood L. Calvin, Democrat, is seeking re-election against opposition from Wayne Paulson, newspaper publisher and Republican, and Lyle Perkins, Independent.

Perkins, a driver for the Columbiana Storage Warehouse, is a former village policeman.

A total of 25 candidates are vying for village offices, the largest in a number of years. The party slates are:

Republicans

Mayor: Wayne Paulson.
Clerk: George R. Snoke.
Treasurer: Louis D. Bair.
Council: William B. Arn, Harry A. Fullerton, Kenneth T. Gormley, Dale S. Klingensmith, Robert G. Ferrall and John C. T. Elder.
Trustees of Public Affairs: John J. Barrow, George E. Herman and Carl S. Keller.

Democrats

Mayor: Erwood L. Calvin.
Clerk: Lloyd R. Crawford.
Treasurer: Adin R. Kaufman.
Council: Clinton K. Browning, Ray E. Brubaker, Clinton W. Faulk, Lee Harrold, Russell Karcher and Ellis Ritchie.

Trustees of Public Affairs: George K. Cleveland, Edward W. Gustafson and William J. Hum. Willard E. Ferrall, Richard H. Reash and Jack H. Weyman are seeking election to the two open posts on the Columbiana Exempted School District Board of Education.

Six candidates are after the one open Fairfield Township trustee seat: Alton D. Brinker, Hugh G. Farmer, Joseph K. Harding, Wilmer D. Swope, John H. Trotter and Robert C. VanFossan.

George R. Keller is candidate for clerk of the township.

District Governor Due At Lisbon Club Meeting

LISBON — William Archibald of Massillon, governor of Lions District 13-A-2, will make an official visit to the Lisbon Lions Club Wednesday evening.

A covered dinner will be served at 6:15 in the club's cottage near Willow Grove Park, with wives as guests.

"Work Night" will be held this evening at the cottage to get ready for Wednesday night's affair. Members are to report any time after 5 p. m.

Young Governors Disagree Over Nixon Chances

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The country's two youngest governors disagree over Vice President Richard M. Nixon's chances at the presidency.

Oregon's Republican Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, 37, believes voters in his state would choose Nixon if a presidential primary were held now.

He said he felt that both Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller "would make outstanding presidents."

But Democratic Gov. J. Howard Edmondson of Oklahoma—who appeared with Hatfield on the television panel "Meet the Press" Sunday said he thought Nixon had shown "a willingness to use tactics that are not high enough... to qualify him for the position of president of the United States."

Edmondson, 34, said he felt his party would find Rockefeller "the most difficult Republican to beat in a presidential race."

9 Drivers Forfeit In Traffic Cases

LISBON — Nine motorists forfeited bonds totaling $125 Saturday and Sunday in Mayor John Todd's Court. They are:

Keith L. Hughes, 23, of East Liverpool R. D. 1, $10, reckless operation; Michael E. Scroggs, 57, of Lisbon R. D. 2, $10, failure to stop for a stop sign; Donald E. Moser, 24, of Hanover R. D. 1, $10, crossing a yellow line.

Thomas F. Buchalew, 42, of Akron, $15, and John E. Taylor, 31, of Bedford, $10, both speeding; Robert E. Hayes Jr., 32, of Cleveland, $15, passing at an intersection; Harry D. Warbler of Louisville, $15, failure to yield right-of-way; James B. Hellrigel, 22, of Bridgeport, $15, left of center, and $10, insecure load, and Andrew T. Lepock, 26, of Rogers R. D. 1, $15, speeding.

He was cited by village police and the others by the State Highway Patrol.

Officers Chosen For Mothers Club

ROGERS — Officers of a newly-organized Mothers Club were elected at the initial meeting Friday night in the elementary school.

The club will help plan social activities for grade school children of Rogers.

Mrs. Charles Wilk is president; Mrs. Ray McElhane, vice president; Mrs. Donald Houserman, secretary; Mrs. Richard Barnhouse, treasurer, and Mrs. Earl Cope, publicity chairman.

The annual Halloween party for pupils was planned for Thursday afternoon at 1 in the school.

Membership in the club is open to all mothers or guardians who have children enrolled in the first four grades, it was announced.

Twenty-three attended Friday's session. The next meeting will be Nov. 5 at 1 p. m. The First Thursday of each month was set as the regular meeting date.

Palsy Parental Group Holds Halloween Party

Approximately 50 children and parents attended a Halloween party held by the Parental Group of the Columbiana County Affiliate of the United Cerebral Palsy Association Saturday night in the clinic rooms at the Mary Patterson Memorial.

Games were played with prizes for winners. Seasonal decorations were arranged by Mrs. Marilyn Wagner and Junior Garren.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Evelyn Mahon, Mrs. Janice Southall, Mrs. Evelyn Geer and Mrs. Phyllis Hupp.

The regular meeting of the group is scheduled Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. in the clinic rooms. Mrs. Martha Garren, president, will be in charge.

Wounding Probed

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — The wounding of Pfc. Alphonse W. Raper, 26, with a carbine bullet was under investigation today by a board of officers from the 67th

Field Artillery in Cleveland. Raper, a radar operator at Ravena Arsenal and from Berger, Tex., is in critical condition at Robinson Memorial Hospital. The shooting, tentatively listed as accidental, took place in a barracks Saturday night.

West Virginia Wrecks Kill 8

Highway accidents over the weekend killed at least eight people in West Virginia.

Three of the deaths happened yesterday. The others were on Saturday.

An elderly woman and her middle-aged son died yesterday when their car shot off U. S. 19 about five miles from Summersville and went down an embankment. They were Mrs. Rebecca Ann Ramsey, 78, and Vinton H. Ramsey, 44, both of South Charleston.

Lloyd Kiser, 22, of Sissonville died last night shortly after his car collided with a truck. State Police said that mud carried onto U. S. 21 about seven miles north of Charleston from a side road caused Kiser's car to skid into the path of the truck.

Saturday's toll: Richard Conner, 17, of Clarksburg, in a wreck on U. S. 19 in Marion County near Worthington.

Walter C. Peters, 75, when the truck he was riding entered U. S. 60 near Lewisburg and collided with a car.

Mrs. Shirley King, 27, of Weston, in a head-on crash three miles south of Fairmont on W. Va. 73. Jack Dubose, 24, of Martinsburg, when a power line fell on him after his car hit a utility pole two miles south of Martinsburg along U. S. 11.

Thomas Edward Coles, 50, of Worth, McDowell County, when he was run over on U. S. 52 halfway between Bluefield and Welch.

18 Here Attend Insurance Event

Eighteen members of the East Liverpool Life Underwriters Association were among 80 attending an annual sales caravan Friday at the Weirton Community Center in a joint project with the Steubenville association.

Robert Kollmann, president of the East Liverpool association, and James Mikos, a representative of the Prudential Insurance Co. and president of the Steubenville group, were in charge.

Robert Fromm of Youngstown, an agent for the New England Life Insurance Co., was moderator and the panel included Robert Smith from the Western & Southern Life Insurance Co. of office in Youngstown, Robert Wilson of Salem, an agent of Mutual Life of New York, and Thomas Scarney of Youngstown, a representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Smith spoke on "Work Habits and Golf." Wilson on "Life Insurance as Property" and Scarney on "Sales Procedures."

The local association is represented by agents from the Nationwide Insurance Co., Western & Southern Life Insurance Co. and Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

The next meeting of the East Liverpool group will be held Nov. 27 at the Travelers Hotel.

Your Community Fund

By ELSA ANN RUBIN

'You Can't Afford Not To Give'

(This is another of the essays submitted in conjunction with the annual Community Fund campaign. Miss Elsa Ann Rubin, 324 W. 4th St., wrote today's article.)

Contribute to the Community Fund? You can't afford not to. Look what the advantages of Community Fund activities have done for our area—

East Liverpool has never had a juvenile crime wave. Its teen-agers were brought up in an atmosphere of group participation and co-operation made possible to a great degree by the Community Fund.

MISS RUBIN

Our youth are guided in Scout-ing. Young and old alike enjoy the facilities of the YMCA. Play-grounds, maintained by the Recreation Council, form centers for constructive neighborhood activities.

Many of the city's less fortunate citizens have been aided, both physically and spiritually, by the Salvation Army. USO centers are using our money to provide a homelike atmosphere for service-men.

"God helps those who help themselves." We in the tri-state area are being given an opportunity to help ourselves by supporting the Community Fund. Why pass up a good chance?

New Benefits For Jobless

The Review begins today a series of articles which deal, in question-and-answer form, with the principal changes in Ohio's amended Unemployment Compensation Law, effective since Oct. 16.

The Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation (BUC) has the answers on how a person who becomes unemployed through no fault of his own and who is able to work, ready and available for work and trying to find work, may apply for and receive weekly benefits up to $42 and additional dependency allowances up to $11 weekly.

Although the unemployment compensation law has been on the statute books of Ohio since 1936 and benefits have been paid since Jan. 31, 1939, many of the 2½ million covered Ohio workers never have felt the pinch of unemployment or known the need for drawing benefits.

For their information, the BUC has prepared a report on the basic features of the law, which have changed but little in the passing years.

It is emphasized by the BUC that the changes in the law apply only to those who filed their applications after Oct. 15. There is, however, one exception: Claimants who now are receiving the old maximum weekly benefit of $33 (based on high quarter wages of $821 or over) may request the local office where their claim is filed to review their applications as a means of finding out if their previous wages entitle them to a larger weekly benefit.

If a higher rate is established, it will be paid for all the weeks still available to such claimants.

In no case, however, will dependency allowances be reviewed, nor will the claimant be entitled to any increase in the dependency allowance previously established.

NEXT: New benefit rates

Optimism Surrounds Talks In Glass Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Optimism voiced by a federal mediator surrounded a scheduled meeting today between negotiators in an attempt to end the 44-day strike of 2,000 moldmakers against the glass container industry.

After the first Sunday negotiating session since the strike began Sept. 13, Mediator William Rose said:

"Continued progress was shown by both sides. There is no reason why a settlement can't be achieved if both sides continue to show the degree of compromise which was evident today."

A Few Dollars Is All It Takes

"Flex-O-Glass has made our porch a year 'round, livable room. The children love it!"
"Here's an inside view of our large screened porch. If you couldn't see the snow outside, you'd think it was taken in summer. What doesn't show is the crystal-clear Flex-O-Glass screen. What does show is an invisible barrier between our home and winter. This is the second year we have used the same Flex-O-Glass. We expect it to last at least two years more. That means it will cost us only about $15 a year to protect the rest of the house against drafts. We can leave our furniture on the porch the entire year and provide a warm, protected play area for the children. If you would like to use this letter to tell other home owners how much they're missing by not using your wonderful Flex-O-Glass to protect their homes against winter weather, you have my enthusiastic approval!"
H. F. Redder
Madison, Wis.

"Flex-O-Glass is the cheapest investment in winter comfort we've ever made," says L. D. Higgins.
"The new porch of Warp's Flex-O-Glass is tucked under the eaves of our bedroom wing and, once made, ran and came and went in a matter of minutes. I had my doubts that if the screen was a window 'replacement' to get up Flex-O-Glass and keep winter cold outside where it belongs."
"Our living room was warmer than it ever had been . . . such a relief not to hang any more cold drafts on the floor," says Mrs. K. Klump (phone withheld).
"The best home is not a hill and gets the best kind of winter wind. Last winter we covered the front door and the windows with Flex-O-Glass. It made the house much easier to heat. We're so used to Flex-O-Glass that we're going to cover our entire front porch with it this winter. It was just a good outdoor seat with Flex-O-Glass tucked up. It will give us an extra room and make the protection on the rest of the house. (It encloses this letter with Flex-O-Glass and will return only 10 cents of same.) ## Parade Slated At Salineville

SALINEVILLE — A Halloween parade Friday night will be the climax of a three-day festival of the volunteer fire department.

The Dine Amusement Co. of Canton will provide rides for the festival Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the rear of the fire station on E. Main St.

The Ruritan Club is in charge of the parade Friday night at 7:30, for which $20 in prizes will be awarded. The parade will form at the high school and will move east on Main St. to the Howard Adams garage, where judging will take place.

Judges will be Orville Madison, Mrs. Gerald Johnson and Mrs. Cleda Peloso. The high school band will lead the parade. Atty. Warren Bettis is marshal.

Proceeds will be used for fire equipment. Fire Chief Tony Brandonisio and Walker Irvine, president of the Ruritan Club, announced.

Beaver Local Observance

Queen Crowned At Homecoming

Miss Judy Broadbent of Bloomfield, center, reigned as Homecoming queen of Beaver Local High School at a football game and dance Saturday at the school near Williamsport.

Miss Broadbent and Miss Lois Horger of Calcutta, left, had been selected by the student body from six senior candidates nominated by the football squad.

At halftime ceremonies, Miss Broadbent picked a white rose to win the title. Miss Horger served as maid of honor.

The 1959 queen was crowned by Miss Linda Fitzsimmons, right, the 1958 queen, at the halftime of the game with Fairfield-Waterford.

Serving on the queen's court were Susan Beede of near Elkton, senior; Carole Whitacre of Rogers, junior; Carol Saltzman of the Y. & O. Rd., sophomore, and Dorothy Nalley of the Bell School Rd., freshman.

Their escorts were Bob Dunn, John Barnes, Frank Main, Lloyd Zeigler, Tom Banner, Gary Rambo and Lester McKenzie.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Yesterday I read a letter in your column from "Working Mother." Two years ago I would have agreed with her but it took a heartbreaking experience to make me realize that working mother and tired wife spell marriage on the rocks.

When we were first married my husband wanted me to quit work. I did—but in a month I decided we could use the extra money, so back to the office I went. After a year there was a baby. In six weeks I was looking for a housekeeper.

After 12 years there were four children and I was still working. The house was always a mess and if the kids were in something at school I had to buy them new clothes because the ironing was behind.

My husband got in the habit of going "downtown" after supper. I was too tired to be good company. Then the bombshell hit. I learned he had been seeing another woman. I knew it was 80 per cent my fault so I quit my job, fired the housekeeper and reversed my life.

No more black coffee and toast breakfasts for him. I get up and take care of my family instead of dressing to the teeth to go to the office.

I never knew it could be so much fun swinging a 4-year-old and frolicking with a 2-year-old. Either these kids are smarter than my older two or I missed an awful lot when I was at the office.

I urge every mother, whether her child is 1 or 21, to quit work and stay home. You'll find plenty to do and the satisfactions will more than compensate for the few extra dollars that disappear in thin air anyway.—HOMEBODY.

Dear Homebody: Thanks for your good letter. One-third of the working force in America is made up of women. In this vast army there must be some women who are glad to be working. I invite them to present their side of the story.

Small-Town Problem

Dear Ann: I must write to you because I'm too ashamed to discuss this with anyone who knows me. We live in a small town and I would die if anyone knew.

I've been married 10 years and have two children. About 10 months ago my husband's closest friend passed away at the age of 43. The man had a heart attack and died at work. He had no previous history of heart trouble. It so happens he had been a bachelor until six months before his death.

Two days after the funeral my husband (who is 42) told me he was sure his friend would not have had a heart attack if he had not married. He says men who forget how old they are invite a coronary.

I thought he'd get over the shock and return to normal in a few weeks. But he hasn't touched me since.

Every night he makes up an excuse to stay up later than I do.

I'm a nervous wreck. Please help me.—MRS. X.

Dear Mrs. X: A 42-year-old man who has been dodging his wife for 10 months needs more help than I can offer in a single letter.

The sudden loss of his friend had a shattering effect on your husband, which is understandable. But it's time he recovered and continued to live a normal life. The theory that such activity after 40 is "inviting a coronary" must be dispelled by a doctor whose opinion he respects. Urge your husband to go with you to your family doctor (or to one in the nearest large city if he is sensitive about it) before your marriage falls apart completely.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Farm Bureau Holds Election

LISBON — Nine trustees were elected at the annual Farm Bureau Co-operative Association meeting Saturday night at Guilford Grange Hall.

Elected for a two year term were: Allen Chamberlain of Fairfield Township; Galen Greenisen of Perry Township; Richard Denney of Knox Township; Howard Blanchard of Hanover Township; Leland Baker of Elkrun Township; Paul Bailey of Madison — and Middleton Townships; Herbert Frischkorn of Washington and Yellow Creek Townships and Mrs. Arlan Weaver of East Rochester R. D. 1 and Mrs. Floyd Sidwell of Columbiana R. D. 2, members-at-large.

Greenisen and Mrs. Sidwell were elected delegates to the annual state meeting in 1960. Ray Hobson of Columbus, vice-president of the State Farm Bureau Co-operative Association, was guest speaker.

The group voted on resolutions which will be sent to the state group. G. V. Weinstock, district insurance representative, gave a report.

Whitney Ingraham, co-op manager, reported on the Farm Bureau operations. Entertainment was given by the youth group and adult group of the association. There were 185 present. Greenisen, president, presided.

1st District Title Taken At Toledo By Singing Group

The Colonials — the East Liverpool Barbershop Quartet Society's representative in a convention and contest over the weekend in Toledo — have brought home the city's first district championship.

About 30 other quartets from Maryland, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio participated in the Johnny Appleseed District contest Saturday morning and afternoon in the Commodore Perry Hotel and the Toledo Art Museum.

The Colonials include Bill and Chuck Brooks, Dale Keddie and Jim Raffle. Raffle also was honored by being selected a tenor on the All-District Quartet.

Pins and plaques for winning the district championship were presented the Colonials by Clarence Javling, international president of SPEBSQSA, and Robert Hafer, international secretary.

Medalists in the contest, the "Happy Pappies" of Cleveland, were engaged to perform in the East Liverpool group's 11th annual Parade of Quartets March 26.

The next district competition is scheduled April 22-23 in Cincinnati. About 20 city residents made the trip to Toledo with the Colonials.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. White are residing at 225 W. 7th St., following their marriage Oct. 15 at 10 o'clock at St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

The single-ring ceremony was performed by Fr. Carl Nicolay, pastor.

The bride is the former Miss Donna Baumgartner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Baumgartner of Bridge St., and her husband is the son of Marshall White of Florida and the late Mrs. Christine White of East Liverpool.

The bride was attired in a twinkling light-blue lace dress styled with gathered neckline and sleeves. Her veil of blue was worn with a blue velvet hat with white drops of flowers. Her accessories were white.

She wore a corsage of carnations and roses and carried a white prayer book.

Miss Mary Jane Derda of Newell was maid of honor and wore a beige street-length dress with brown accessories.

Bernard Allison of East Liverpool was best man.

The bride's mother was attired in an orchard print with blue accessories to match.

Dinner was served at the bride's home and a reception followed. Aides were Mrs. Roberta Dunn and Mrs. Jackie Phillip.

The bride is a graduate of East Liverpool High School and attended the A. & H. School of Beauty Culture. She is employed at the Thorofare Market in East End.

The bridegroom is also a graduate of the high school and is employed at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. as a carpenter. He served two years in the Navy.

A Halloween party highlighted the meeting of the Hill and Dell

Miss Cynthia Vodrey Weds At Rites In Canton Church

The wedding of Miss Cynthia Warner Vodrey of Canton and New York City and Jonathan Washington Dodge of New York City was solemnized at 4:30 o'clock Saturday in St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Canton.

The Rev. Dr. Louis M. Brereton officiated for the single ring ceremony, uniting the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelly Vodrey of 1615 Market Ave. N and the son of Mrs. Peter J. Ferrara of New York and Camden, Me., and Washington Dodge of New York and East Hampton, Long Island, N. Y.

Green palms were placed in the church vestibule where a standing floral bouquet was centered in the window. Mr. Vodrey escorted his daughter to the altar along an aisle outlined by candelabra draped with smilax.

Re-embroidered Alencon lace outlined the sweetheart neckline of the bride's gown of candlelight peau de soie and formed a pattern in the long sleeves. The bodice front was designed along princess lines. Extreme fullness and a formal chapel train extended in the skirt back from below a bouffant bow.

Her fingertip veil of French illusion was held by a Juliet cap of the Alencon lace and she carried a small cascade bouquet of phalaenopsis orchids and lilies of the valley centered with pink sweetheart roses. The bride wore a string of pearls belonging to her godmother, Mrs. Albert L. Bergstrom.

Honor attendants for the former Miss Vodrey were Mrs. Philip Wayne Hummer of Chicago and Miss Betty Burns Harris of Wheeling, W. Va., who had been her roommates.

The attendants were Mrs. George Alden Dean of Rowayton, Conn.; Mrs. Lawrence Murray Riegel of New York City; Mrs. John Allison Scully of Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Mahlon Brookings Wallace III of St. Louis, Mo., all former schoolmates of the bride; Miss Whitney Lawrence Harris of East Liverpool, a cousin of the bride; and Mrs. Louis Larick Ward of Kansas City, Mo., the former Miss Adelaide Cobb of Canton.

Lawrence Murray Riegel of New York City, a former roommate of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were Malcolm Pratt Aldrich of New York City; William H. Cochran II of Madison, N.J.; David M. Collins of Summit, N.J.; Arthur P. Dodge of New York City and Lt. Kent Hubbard Dodge of Lawton, Okla., brothers of the bridegroom; Paul G. Himmler II of Congress Lake; Elijah Kent Hubbard III of Greenwich, Conn., a cousin of the bridegroom; George D. F. Lamborn of Montclair, N.J., and Thompson Kelly Vodrey of Elizabeth, N.J., and Canton, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Vodrey's American beauty ensemble was of imported brocade satin with a small, velvet hat and satin accessories. Her purse carried a corsage of yellow tea roses.

Mrs. Congrove was attired in an orchid color dress.

A reception followed at the home of Mrs. William Adams of Wintersville, sister of the bridegroom.

Autumn Theme Highlights Program For Garden Club

Arrangements of tints, tones and shades of chrysanthemums in old-fashioned containers highlighted the program at a meeting of the Garden Club Friday night at the home of Mrs. John Keller of Maine Blvd.

Mrs. Ray Unger, program chairman, and Mrs. George White and Mrs. Roy Geisler were in charge.

In presenting the program, in an autumn theme, Mrs. Unger read a poem, "Breathe and Behold."

Mrs. Eugene Seeley gave a talk on "Herbs—Their Culture and Uses" and Mrs. Leo Lawrence spoke briefly on "Perennials For Every Garden."

Another feature of the program was the showing of scenes from the local fall flower show and the spring flower show at Phipps Conservatory, by Donald Karcher.

Three new members were welcomed—Mrs. Dorothy Kountz, Mrs. W. M. Crawford and Miss Myrtle Finnie.

During business conducted by Mrs. Keller, president, plans were completed for a rummage sale Thursday through Saturday at the City Market Building on Broadway. Mrs. Lawrence is in charge.

Mrs. Wayne Dorsey reported that tulip bulbs were sent to the Leper Colony in Carville, La.

As fund-raising projects, the club will sell nuts and flower arrangement calendars.

A report was heard on the arrangement class that was conducted by Mrs. George Jones of Salem.

The members endorsed renewal of the City Hospital levy at the Nov. 3 election.

Miss Helen Glass was a guest. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Alfred Boulton and Mrs. Wayne Dorsey.

The next meeting will be Nov. 12 at the home of Mrs. Unger, 615 Fisher Ave. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. George White and Mrs. Geisler.

Ike May Cancel Trip To Moscow, News Writer Says

CLEVELAND (AP)—There is a faint possibility that President Eisenhower might cancel his trip to Moscow, William L. Ryan, Associated Press news analyst, said here Sunday.

"If he does cancel, it will mean a real hard freeze in the Cold War," the veteran correspondent told about 50 newspaper editors at the closing luncheon of the fall meeting of the Associated Press Society of Ohio.

Ryan said he had a feeling that the President disliked the idea of going to Russia. He added the advantages of Eisenhower's visit would not be comparable to those gained by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev in his tour of the United States.

Communist propaganda gains achieved by Khrushchev's visit may be strengthened by the President's planned visit to Russia, he said.

Ryan, who covered Khrushchev's tour of this country, said the premier's visit solidified his position at home and abroad as a man of peace.

The premier's disarmament plan, he continued, gives Russia the opportunity to mark time and if it fails the Reds will claim disarmament isn't possible as long as capitalism exists.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I renovate a silk dress that has become shiny or rusty?

A. A little ammonia in a few spoonfuls of alcohol, sponged on the dress, will cope with this, as well as remove various spots. When sponged with this solution, a silk, particularly a black, becomes like new.

Q. How can I stop a small leak in a pan or bucket?

A. Turn the receptacle upside down, cover the leak with a little powdered sulphur, heat an old knife blade until it is very hot and spread the sulphur around the leak.

Q. How can I test the electric waffle iron for the right heat?

A. Place a sheet of white paper between the grids. When the paper turns brown, the iron is then ready to receive the first batch of waffles.

No Big Fires Expected

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rains which have soaked the state—and a number of its citizens, including football fans—have done a good job of wetting down foliage, the State Forestry Division says. Forester Robert B. Redett, in charge of the protection section, says no large scale forest fires are expected.

Congo Church Minister Quits

The Rev. Russell D. Petty submitted his resignation as pastor of the Congo Church of the Nazarene during the morning service Sunday. He plans to enter the evangelistic field.

Rev. Petty used his resignation as the theme of his sermon topic, "Six Years, Six Months, Six Days." He will deliver his final sermon Sunday, Nov. 22.

Rev. Petty took over the pastorate April 19, 1953. During his tenure, the church has made gains in all departments and purchased a seven-room parsonage.

Rev. and Mrs. Petty and their children, Nancy Mae, 15, and Russell Jr., 18, all will work as evangelists, carrying a full program including the music. The family will make its home in Weirton.

Rev. Petty said anyone wanting to contact him can call Weirton 6423-J or write in care of Weirton Post Office Box 252.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera opens its season tonight with a new production of Verdi's "Il Trovatore."

Rubber Worker Held In Beating Death Of Wife

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A 51-year-old rubber worker was held without charge in the Summit County jail today in the death of his wife, who was beaten and kicked in the yard of their Springfield Twp. home.

Prosecutor John Ballard said he would file a first-degree murder charge against Theodore Cottrell. Sheriff Russell Bird said Cottrell was sitting in the driveway holding his wife, Garnett, 34, when a deputy arrived late Saturday night. Mrs. Cottrell died later in Akron City Hospital.

The sheriff said two of the couple's children — Robindale, 3, and Tommy, 5—slept through the beating, but a third child, Terry, 13, told deputies he saw part of it.

Two girls, 17 and 18 years old, who were with Mrs. Cottrell when she drove into the driveway, also witnessed part of the beating, Ballard said.

Ballard said officers were called by a 20-year-old youth who passed by and saw a man beating a woman in the driveway.

The prosecutor said Cottrell denied beating his wife and explained she was injured when she "fell down several times."

Ballard said both Cottrell and his wife apparently had been drinking.

Tips For Home Owners

'When Walls Are Open'

By ANDY LANG
Newsfeatures

"There is a tide in the building of a house which, taken at the flood, leads on to the saving of money."

Shakespeare didn't say it exactly that way. But if he had been a builder, he might have. Today the builders say it this way: "Do it when the walls are open."

"When the walls are open" is that period in the construction of a new home that comes after the framing of the structure and before the plaster, wallboard or other interior wall material is in place.

It is possibly the most important time of all for the prospective home owner, because it is then that much of his new home's convenience and good looks must be built carefully into the open walls.

later at much inconvenience and additional expense.

It seems that a family having a house built would know what it wants in a new home. But the records show that what a family wants at the time of construction is different from what it wants one, two or a few years later.

When the walls are open is the time to be sure there is sufficient electrical power and enough circuits to take care of future as well as present needs.

Think ahead about the possible needs for air-conditioning, power tools and appliances. Make sure the circuits are balanced properly to meet your needs. And see that plenty of outlets are installed. It is surprising how often a family that has a house built to order will find the need for extra outlets after living in the home a few months.

All lighting needs should be considered—and advantage can be taken of recessed or indirect lighting. Since the ceiling is open when the walls are open, this is the time to take care of overhead lighting in places like bedrooms and recreation rooms. By wiring up for ceiling fixtures, you can perhaps avoid the cost of an extra lamp or two.

PLAN AHEAD with your local telephone company to see that concealed wiring is installed, not only where you plan to have a telephone now but where you might have one in the future.

Just as with electrical wiring, make sure that enough outlets are provided, as so often there is a need for expansion of phone service to meet changing family requirements.

Wiring for hi-fi or stereo systems does not have to be exposed, either, if advance planning is done.

Junior or Jane may not be interested in hi-fi or stereo right now, but they may be a few years from now. Of course, if money is no object, then you can forget everything we've said.

LONG AND LUXURIOUS. One look at this home and you can tell it's designed for comfortable living. It has two large bedrooms and a third that can be used as a study if desired, two baths, closets galore and an expansive kitchen. The house is 32 feet wide and 38 feet deep, and has 1,960 square feet of living area. The plan is HAIHK, by Architect Derick B. Kipp, Room 75, 117 W. 48th St., New York 36, N. Y.

Pact Agreement Ends Walkout At Fruehauf Firm

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—A 32-day strike of 1,500 employees at the Fruehauf Trailer Co.'s Avon Lake plant ended today.

The company recalled 1,200 first and second shift workers and said the remaining 300 would report later in the week after inventory-taking.

An end to the strike was voted by Local 925, Allied Industrial Workers, Sunday. Joe V. Brown, local president, said a two-year contract providing wage increases of eight cents this year and seven cents next year was approved 571-53. The new average hourly rate of workers covered becomes $2.42, Brown said.

The new contract expires Sept. 24, 1961.

In addition to wage gains, it provides an additional or third week of vacation after 12 years of service and an additional $5 of weekly sick and accident benefits which become $40 a week.

Woman In Pen Most Of Life Dies

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Verna West, whose yen for going places led to her spending most of her life in one place — the Marysville Women's Reformatory — will remain near it in death.

She died in the prison hospital Saturday, 31 years after coming here on a second-degree murder conviction in the hammer slaying of her second husband.

She killed him with a claw hammer, she said, as the climax to a final bitter argument over her desire to go to parties and dancing, and his inclination to lead a quieter life.

Burial was arranged for St. John's Cemetery here today, following a morning requiem mass at Our Lady of Lourdes Roman Catholic Church here.

Mrs. West embraced Catholicism 20 years ago after being recaptured following 40 days of freedom. She said at the time that the escape which gave her those 40 days outside "wasn't worth it."

In ill health with a heart ailment, she spent most of her final year in the prison hospital. Her mother and a brother survive.

All Rust Must Be Removed In Painting Of Iron Work

One of the noticeable departures from what used to be considered good building practice can be found in the present-day extensive use of iron work in place of wood.

There is a quantity of aluminum used also, but the average modern house will have iron railings, ornamental iron grills and trellis work where formerly wood was used.

There is no doubt that properly maintained iron will outlast wood, but it is far easier to paint wood than to properly prepare and paint iron work.

Bare or unprotected iron will start to rust in two or three days, depending of course on the kind of weather prevailing. Once iron starts to rust it is useless to paint it without removing every trace of the rust.

Rust eats beneath the paint and lifts it off an iron surface. After the paint is gone, the rust continues to eat more and more deeply into the surface of iron. Therefore, it is important that every trace of the rust be removed before painting is attempted.

An iron trellis piece is full of small holes, depressions and other surface inequalities which make it most difficult to clean off properly. Iron railings first rust at joints or undersides which are difficult to scrape clean, but any neglect of these hard to get at spots means quick failure of the new plant.

Until quite recently the best kind of a painting job on iron consisted of removing all scale with a putty knife and then sand-papering the surface.

Next, red lead was applied, and after that set the paint was laid on. Quite a lengthy job. Today a new material, based on the oil taken from the sardine has been found excellent. The oil penetrates the rust, kills the eating action and offers a fine base for paint.

Sen. Young Raps Ike On Missile, Space Lag

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States is behind in the missile and space race, says Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio), because President Eisenhower is "too obsessed with balancing the budget to keep things moving in the right direction."

And because the President is a former military man, Young declared Sunday on a CBS television program, he has not carried out unification of the armed services, which might end "the maze of confusion in the Pentagon."

Playwright Tennessee Williams was born in an Episcopal Church rectory in Columbus, Miss.

Proper Rack Will Keep Tools From Cluttering Home Area

Experienced home owners know that nothing contributes more to neatness and efficiency than adequate hangers or racks of the right kind.

Garden tools, of which the average man has quite a few, and household accessories such as brooms, mops and waxing equipment, belong on hangers and not on the floors where they clutter up the area. Things that are on hangers can be selected and taken in hand immediately and without causing several unwanted things to fall out of the corner and on the floor.

One of the very best types of hanger or rack is also one of the oldest designs, and for many years could be seen in any stable or toolhouse.

This rack consists merely of a strip of smooth wood in which holes have been bored at regular intervals and dowels are set into the holes at a slight up-angle. This rack can be made as long or as short as desired and the dowels or pegs any length you want. In short, there is no other hanger or rack quite as versatile as this design, because you can make one for any short wall as well as one to stretch along an entire side of the garage. Another good thing about this rack is that you can pull the pegs out and skip a hole or two to accommodate tools that take up a lot of space.

The dowels or pegs we mention are made out of a stick of dowel-wood. Dowel-wood is made of hard, well-seasoned wood. It comes in various diameters and can be easily cut with a saw or hack-saw blade. As a rule, the 3/4-inch diameter will be found strong enough for average use.

It goes without saying that a broken peg can be replaced in a few minutes, as there is no necessity of gluing them into place.

Group To Hear Talks By Butler And Morton

CLEVELAND — The two foremost spokesmen of America's political parties will address the convention of the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association at the Chase-Park Plaza Hotel in St. Louis Dec. 3-4.

Speaking before the nation's largest trade association concerned with indoor comfort will be Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and Thurston B. Morton, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Butler will address the convention luncheon on Thursday, Dec. 3, and Morton will speak at the luncheon on Friday, Dec. 4.

Game Is Touch-Go For Two Of Inmates

DENVER (AP)—A touch football game here Sunday turned out to be a touch-and-go affair for two players on the Federal Correctional Institute team.

The two, wearing orange and black uniforms, took off at game's end and haven't been seen since. The game was played in a Denver Park.

Associate Warden William Bean said the two, William B. Baker, 19, Spokane, Wash., and Patrick W. McDowell, 17, Casper, Wyo., were serving terms for auto theft.

'Ideal' House To Be Shown

WASHINGTON — Modern materials with the emphasis on quick, easy, economical care keynote the "ideal" house for families with young growing children which will be on display in Cleveland next month during the sixth annual Building Products Exposition of the National Retail Lumber Dealers Association.

Sponsored jointly by Parents Magazine and the Lumber Dealers Research Council, the house which is now under construction on the doorstep of Cleveland Public Auditorium will contain many of the latest "child-proof" materials developed by the building materials industry.

Floors in this house are especially noteworthy in this respect. A smooth surface, abuse-taking floor covering developed by the Armstrong Cork Co. is used in all areas except the living room and parents' bedroom.

Attractive, comfortable and easy-to-keep, the material is almost impervious to intense family wear. Acoustical tile, also an Armstrong product, is used on the ceiling in all activity areas, keeping irritating noises to a minimum throughout the house.

A sensible innovation in the bathroom is the use of Formica Wall Tiles. Mothers will find Formica tiles wash quickly and easily, resist the ravages of time and tots, have lustrous long-life colors. Installation is fast and neat, with no grout line and a new thickness provides flexibility for easy handling and cutting on the job with tile shears.

Lower upkeep costs and lower heating and cooling costs are important long-run economy factors provided through the use of trouble-free aluminum products featured throughout the house.

Aluminum materials used in the model house have been supplied by the Reynolds Metals Co. and include roof shingles, vertical siding, gutters, downspouts, interior and exterior lighting fixtures, screens, thresholds, ductwork, hardware, flues, grilles and registers, insulation and nails.

The public will be admitted to the model house on one day only — Tuesday, Nov. 17, final day of the four-day building products exposition.

Canton Relatives To View Body Of Slaying Victim

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (AP) — Relatives of Thomas W. Toulson of Canton, Ohio, were reported en route here Sunday night to view a body—apparently that of a slaying victim—on which were found papers with Toulson's name and address.

The dead man, evidently slain about two months ago when his skull was fractured by a blow with a blunt instrument, was found Saturday. Two pheasant hunters came upon the body in a field behind a drive-in cafe in Clinton Twp., Macomb County.

County authorities contacted Canton police for aid but the latter told newsmen they had no information.

At first police thought the body might have been that of Christ Scory, 49, whom they described as a Detroit hoodlum and gambler who disappeared last April. Scory's car was found abandoned about five miles from where the body was found.

The victim was 5 feet 7, weighed about 170, wore a short-sleeved green shirt, blue denim trousers and green socks and was shoeless.

Jury Will Hear More About Ohio Building Loan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A grand jury will hear more about the operations of the State Division of Building and Loan today—if some invitations issued by the county prosecutor are accepted.

Prosecutor Earl W. Allison, who gets the job because the state capital is in Franklin County, says he has invited — not subpoenaed — three former superintendents of the division, and the present superintendent, Andrew C. Putka, to testify today.

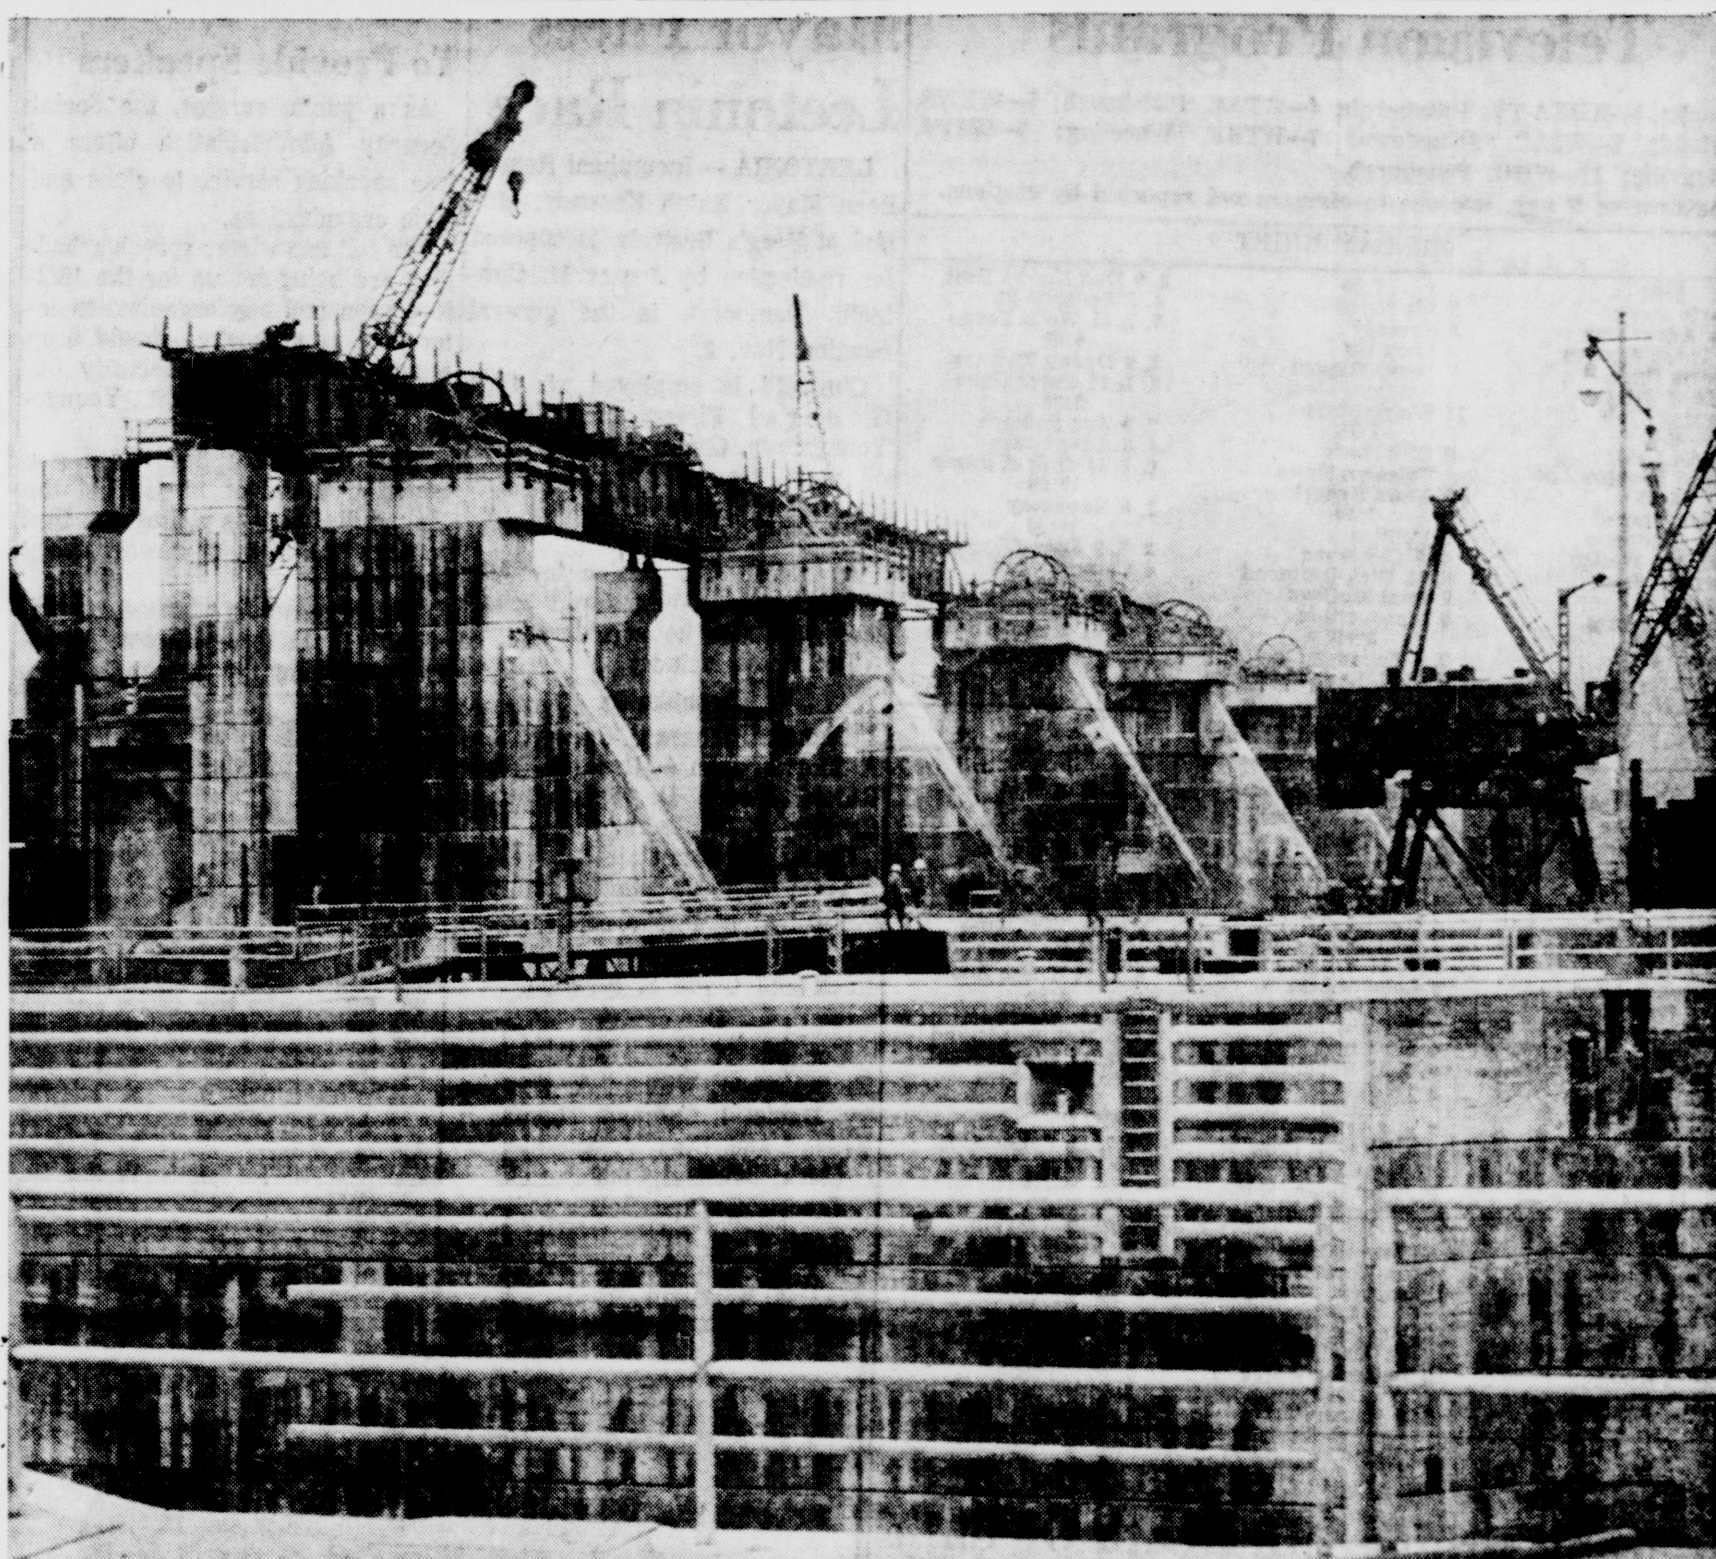

They'll be asked to explain division operations, he said, adding that one former official has declined, one has agreed, and one has asked to postpone his appearance until Nov. 10. He declined to identify any.

The grand jury is investigating expenditures from the building and loan fund since 1945. A state auditor's report indicated up to $217,000 may have been spent without vouchers, reportedly from a liquidation fund built up by state fees in handling defunct building and loan operations.

Testimony began Oct. 14. The division is part of the Ohio Department of Commerce.

Heads Women Writers

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Velta Kinney of the Mansfield News-Journal was elected president of the Ohio Newspaper Women's Assn. Sunday at the group's 57th annual convention here. Other officers elected were Miss Jean Weaver of the Lorain Journal, vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Asher of the Sandusky Register, secretary, and Miss Martha Brian of the Columbus Dispatch, treasurer.

FIRST STAGE NEARS COMPLETION. The first stage of the new "super-dam" at Stratton being constructed by the Dravo Corp. nears completion as work continues on erecting an overhead bridge for a traveling crane. The photograph was taken from the land-wall and looks across the two locks, which were constructed by the Savin Construction Co. The machinery at the top of the piers will be used to lift the gates.

Here's Speedy Remedy For Lawn's Bare Spots

The home owner who goes to a lot of trouble to keep his house and grounds in good shape knows that nothing detracts from the general nice appearance as much as a bare spot anywhere in the lawn.

Usually these will be found at a corner where delivery men, the postman and his own family take a short cut across a certain section of the lawn. They also can be seen where a hammock is slung from between trees and dragging feet scuff the grass. Actually, any section of a lawn that is exposed to continued wear will soon become bare and no amount of reseeding or fertilizing will make grass grow there.

An excellent remedy for these small yet defacing areas will be found in removing the turf, or what is left of it, and setting in several slates or cement tiles in the manner illustrated.

This is a very small job, but well worth the effort. If no slate or tile happens to be on hand, cement will do well. The turf can be cut out in a slate pattern about two inches deep. Then, the cement mixed with sand and gravel is poured into the depressions. This makes an excellent substitute for real slate or tile.

Many paths are made of slate. If they are fairly well spaced apart, the grass grows very well between them. The same applies to any bare area that is covered in the same manner. If the slates or tiles are laid evenly and well bedded to make a reasonably smooth surface, it will be found that they firm up very well and present safe footing.

Former Titanium Plant Executive Is Promoted

John P. Strand, formerly division superintendent of titanium at the Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works, has been appointed assistant director of the Technical Division in the company's Technology Department at Pittsburgh. He will be responsible for the product development sections.

After serving in World War II and the Korean War, followed by several years of self employment, in 1953 he joined Rem-Cru Titanium, Inc., then jointly owned by Crucible and Remington Arms Co. He held various positions.

When Crucible acquired full ownership of Rem-Cru and integrated the titanium manufacturing into the company's Midland Works, he was named division superintendent of titanium.

Strand was graduated from Penn State University in 1942 with a Bachelor of Science degree in metallurgy. He is a member of the Research Institute of America, American Society for Metals and the Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity.

Between 1939 and 1945, the number of civilian workers employed by the Federal government rose from one million to three and a half million.

Sherlock To Get New Title In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Like Ohio's Division of Economic Development and Publicity, which he headed briefly this year, Paul J. Sherlock, 54, of Columbus is getting a new title.

He will be chief of economic development when the division, formerly part of the Commerce Department, becomes the Department of Industrial and Economic Development on Nov. 4.

Sherlock's job will be promotion of tourist and travel trade in Ohio, and assisting local communities in improving their economy. As a division chief, his salary will increase from $690 a month to $785.

Sherlock headed the present division briefly from the time Executive Secretary Prentiss Mooney resigned until Koder Collison was named director of the new department.

Sherlock formerly worked on newspapers in New Lexington, Somerset (Perry County), Springfield, Zanesville, Gallipolis and Cincinnati.

New Western Giveaway

What's happening with Westerns is reminiscent of the practice adopted by motion picture theaters when movie attendance dropped. They gave away dishes as a come-on.

In TV Westerns, they're "giving away" stars, a clear-cut indication, we'd say, that cowhands and Old Paint aren't drawing as they once did. Since Gene Autry's twanging guitar was first heard in our lane, the sagebrush saga has evolved into the adult Western, the psychological Western and the family Western.

Its latest metamorphosis is the star-manned Western, a form of horse opera that can look to Dick Powell as "Our Leader."

Mr. Powell, Croesus or the cattle country by virtue of the fact that he is president of a TV company (Four Star Productions) that produces no fewer than half a dozen Western series, is employing the name policy for his "Zane Grey Theater" on a regular basis.

In previous seasons, the horse opera was able to get along on its own shooting integrity, but this season gunplay and fistfights alone aren't enough to keep viewers in harness.

THUS the star lure. Joan Crawford, Greer Garson, Walter Pidgeon, Barbara Stanwyck, Anne Baxter and Powell himself are some of the luminaries who will be sitting tall in the saddle of "Zane Grey Theater" during November and December.

"Women viewers," Powell contends, "are becoming disenchanted with Westerns. We're trying to win them back by putting good, strong picture names on the marquee."

"As for the movie stars, they're eager to do these Westerns, especially since many of them never have done them and, besides, there's not much movie activity around."

"I was surprised, at first, when I learned that Joan Crawford actually accepted our offer. She not only accepted, but you should see how she let us muddy her clothes for the appearance. She had a ball during the filming."

The guest star policy, we suspect, is a last-ditch effort to keep the Western in the popularity polls. Next season Mr. Powell's major TV project will be a series of specials, also star-studded.

"I decided against doing specials this season," he said, "after seeing the great number of specials scheduled. I didn't want to get lost in the fray."

PERRY COMO is going into independent TV film production with a tentative budget of three million dollars. The project is an outgrowth of Como's deal with his sponsor.

Ernie Kovacs, whose cigar is ever present, intends to fill the panel of an upcoming "Take a Good Look" show with well-known cigar smokers Milton Berle, George Burns and Hermine Ginko.

Dane Clark, whose craftsmanship is concealed in his weekly "Bold Venture" routine, has drawn an assignment that promises to be worthy of his talent—the TV adaptation of Ernest Hemingway's "The Killers" on CBS Nov. 19. . . . Charles Boyer undertakes a romantic-adventure series, as yet untitled, which goes before cameras here and abroad next spring under the banner of Four Star Productions.

THE NETWORK in the most comfortable position during this period of the quiz scandal is ABC, which has only one quiz, "Who Do You Trust?" a daytime show whose prizes are relatively small. "Only things 'fixed' on our network," quipped an ABC man, "are the Westerns. The good guy always wins."

Jack Webb's TV cameras being at a standstill, the actor-producer makes known that he intends to keep them idle until he gets what he wants, and what he wants is participation in documentary shows, a la Ed Murrow or Chet Huntley. He awaits a network bid.

One of two Hollywood producers discussing the talent shortage noted: "There's so little talent for the simple reason that talent is a scarce commodity." But we prefer the other producer's comment. "There's no shortage of talent," said our man, "just a shortage of those who can find it."

Salem Mayor Opposed By Ex-Occupant

SALEM — Former Democratic Mayor Dean B. Cranmer opposes Mayor Harold D. Smith, Republican, in the top municipal contest in the general election Nov. 3.

Cranmer, operator of a taxi service, was defeated two years ago by Smith, a real estate agent. Cranmer served from 1953 to 1957.

Martin Schuller (R), former councilman, and D. H. Mathews (D) are seeking the post of Council president, now held by Curtis Vaughn.

City Auditor Mrs. Helen Coyne (R) is opposed by Mrs. Mary Boals (D), and City Treasurer James H. Criswell (R) faces Mrs. Mary Gregg (D).

After the three Council-at-large posts are incumbents, Carl Abe (R), Arthur Hanna (R) and Fred Koeneich (D), along with Frank Byerley (R), James Feiler (D) and Lloyd Morrison (D).

In other Council contests, First Ward Councilman R. M. Linder (R) faces Albert Lesh (D); Second Ward Councilman Donald Cannon (R) faces Mrs. Frances Hannay (D); Third Ward Councilman Harold J. Asty (D) is opposed by Charles Paxson (R), and Fourth Ward Councilman Ralph K. Zimmerman (R) faces Jack Hickling (D).

City Solicitor James D. Primm (R) is without opposition.

City voters will also decide an initiative ordinance which would provide $40 monthly pay increases for policemen. A petition with 880 signatures was filed to have the issue placed on the ballot for wage boosts for the 13-man force. Patrolmen draw $416 and the chief $536 a month.

A proposed $350,000 bond issue to extend the city storm sewer system is also on the ballot.

A four-way race for three seats on the Board of Education includes incumbents, Orein Naragon and Gail Herron, along with Stephen Gonda and Atty. Bryce Kendall. School district voters will also decide a proposed new 4.5-mill operating levy and a renewal of a 2.6-mill levy.

In Perry Township elections, Joseph G. Reese, incumbent, and a Twilo Sauerwein are seeking the one open trustee post, and Richard Hutcheson, clerk, faces Wade Loop.

Wool Payments Total $6,281 For Beaver

Payments to wool producers in Beaver County under the wool incentive program for the 1958 marketing year reached a total of $6,281.71 as of the end of August, according to G. M. Swick of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

This represents substantially the total amount of incentive payments to be received by local growers for wool and unshorn lambs marketed between April 1, 1958, and March 31, 1959. About 96 applications for wool payments were filed before the deadline last spring.

County Given $37,617 For Aid To Sightless

Columbiana County received $37,617 from the state in aid-to-blind programs affecting sightless people during 1958-59, according to State Auditor James A. Rhodes.

The distribution of $3,020,174 to 88 counties by the state accounted for nearly 3 percent of the total outlay in public welfare aid to the counties.

Jefferson County received $72,095.

Buckeye State Tourney Bridge Champs Crowned

CLEVELAND (AP)—The team-of-four champions of the Buckeye State Bridge Tournament, which ended here Sunday night, are the team of Mrs. R. H. Ruffles of Cuyahoga Falls, William A. Rohr of Massillon, Charles W. Raffle of Canton and J. A. Adams of Seville.

The team won 35½ of a possible 56 matches.

Two teams tied for second place with 34½ matches. One was composed of Mrs. Kay Burns, Mrs. R. L. Deaton, Richard Barbas and Arnold Weinstein, all of Akron. The other had Don Wolfson of Hudson and Charles Braman, Jules Livingston and Martin Baff, all of Shaker Heights.

Special award for teams whose members have less than 300 points was won by Betty Garson and George Reaven of Akron, and Al Harris, C. Volk and B. B. Vaprin, all of Canton.

Joe White of Rocky River and Bud Creed of Youngstown compiled 30½ points to win the open pair championship event. In second place were Mrs. John Halloran of Wooster and Frank McClure of Sandusky with 28½.

Mrs. W. W. Gill and Jack Denny of Akron won the special pair game. Runners-up were Elmer I. Schwartz and Aaron J. Frank of Shaker Heights.

Ex-Convict Cited In Death Of Child

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—"Why did you kill my baby?" Harriet Graham shrieked the question at her husband, Darrell Graham, who led detectives Saturday night to the spot where he said he had buried his wife's 18-month-old daughter by a previous marriage.

"I didn't kill her," said Graham, 27, an ex-convict, not looking at his bride of one week. "She just sort of died."

Mrs. Graham, 26, a cocktail waitress, broke into sobs as Graham told Santa Monica police Sunday that he took the girl for a ride—to stop her crying—and that "while we were driving she must have choked, or had a heart attack or something."

Graham admitted burying the child in the Hollywood hills, but denied harming her. Police booked him on suspicion of murder. They said the child died of a broken neck.

Cited Drivers Wait Hearings

Hearings are slated tonight before Mayor Burton Ward of Chester for a city driver and a Chester area motorist cited after two weekend traffic collisions.

Roy W. Bayer, 804 Spring Grove Ave., was arrested for reckless operation after his auto hit another at 1st St. and Carolina Ave., and Roy Monroe, 21, of Chester R. D. was cited after a "chain" collision at the foot of the Route 30 hill.

Police said Bayer, headed west on Carolina Ave. about 1:45 a.m. Sunday, turned right at 1st St. and rammed a halted auto driven by Daniel Sweet of Goshen, Ind., causing considerable damage to both sedans. Sweet was stopped on 1st St. for the traffic signal.

Bayer posted a $30.50 bond after his arrest by Patrolman Harold Davis.

Monroe was arrested by Davis after his car, headed uphill on Route 30 near Carolina Ave., hit the rear of an auto operated by Charles Flinn of Chester R. D. 1 last night about 8:10.

Flinn's car was knocked into the rear of another auto operated by James W. Gill of Logan St., East Liverpool, who was making a left turn onto Lawrenceville Rd.

Mrs. Nancy Flinn, passenger in Flinn's car, was shaken and the cars received minor damage, Davis said. Monroe was charged with failure to have his car under control.

23 Delegates To 'Crime' Meet On Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-three delegates to the Apalachin, N.Y., underworld convention go on trial in federal court today charged with giving evasive answers about the conclave.

The government has charged that the defendants conspired to give federal grand juries and other investigative agencies false information about the nature of the Nov. 14, 1957, meeting at the home of the late Joseph Barbara Sr.

Milton R. Wessel, special assistant to the U.S. attorney general, has marshaled more than 100 witnesses. U.S. Dist. Judge Irving R. Kaufman will preside at the trial, which is expected to take 7 to 14 weeks.

Kaufman has dismissed 90 pre-trial motions by the defense and has made it clear he expects to start selection of a jury today. There are 17 separate groups of defense lawyers.

Sixty-three men attended the Apalachin conclave, which was raided by state police. All the men were released after questioning, but the raid set off intensive investigations by state and federal grand juries.

Next time you serve baked potatoes you may enjoy spooning on a teaspoon of sour cream and a sprinkle of minced chives instead of the usual pat of butter.

Scouting Aims Aired At Cub Pack Meeting

Twenty-two attended a meeting of Cub Scout Pack 470 Friday night in Logan Elementary School in Ohioview, when Robert Preston, a committee chairman, discussed aims of scouting.

The pack is sponsored by the Fairview Parent-Teacher Association.

Preston announced that the organization needs a cub master and additional den mothers. The next meeting will be Nov. 13 in the school, when new members will be introduced.

Farm Prices Down

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Farm product prices are running 10 or 11 per cent below last year in Ohio, farm economist Mervin G. Smith writes in "Ohio Farm and Home Research," a magazine of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station. An important factor, he says, is large market supplies of many farm products.

Woman Marks 101st Birthday

LISBON — Mrs. Mary Smith, a former resident of Yellow Creek Township, observed her 101st birthday anniversary quietly Sunday at the County Home, where she has lived for 22 years.

Believed to be one of the oldest residents of Columbiana County, Mrs. Smith has a simple formula for longevity: "Live one day at a time."

Spry despite her age, Mrs. Smith wears glasses, but is able to read the fine print in her Bible.

She likes to walk around the grounds at the home.

Her late husband, George Smith, was head of a road construction crew and she recalls traveling with him to the site of many projects, including one in England. She also worked as a practical nurse.

The couple had no children and Mrs. Smith was alone after her husband's death. Records show she entered the home March 23, 1937, from Yellow Creek Township.

Mrs. Smith had a brush with death years ago, when she was one of a dozen persons felled by food poisoning at a picnic in West Virginia. Six of them died. She believes ice cream was at fault because a brass spoon left in the dessert "came out green as grass."

10 Hunters Reported Missing Turn Up Safe

BAY PORT, Mich. (AP) — Ten duck hunters, reported missing on stormy Saginaw Bay since early Sunday, turned up safe today.

Five were found at a cottage on an island, and the other five showed up at their Detroit area homes.

San Francisco Scores In Last Minute To Gain Tie For First

Colts Keep Pace After 38-21 Win

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

With sharpshooting Y. A. Tittle doing the bulk of the prospecting, the San Francisco 49ers are digging hard for gold and glory in the National Football League.

Tittle, alias "Bald Eagle," is the brains of the outfit—the guy who maps strategy for sorties into enemy territory. His accurate firing is the main reason the surprising San Francisco crew is tied for the lead in the Western Division.

The 32-year-old quarterback engineered the 49ers victory Sunday passing 46 yards to R. C. Owens with 61 seconds left for the touchdown that beat Chicago's Bears 20-17. The victory gave San Francisco a 4-1 record.

The defending champion Baltimore Colts kept pace with the 49ers as Johnny Unitas threw three touchdown passes in a 38-21 triumph over Green Bay.

In the Eastern Division, the New York Giants retained first place with a 4-1 mark by knocking off Pittsburgh's Steelers 21-16.

In other games, Milt Plum passed for four TDs as Cleveland mauled Washington 34-7. Detroit won its first game by upsetting Los Angeles 17-7 and Philadelphia edged Chicago's Cardinals 28-24 in a game played at Minneapolis.

The 49ers, playing their first season under Coach Howard (Red) Hickey, virtually eliminated the highly rated Bears from title contention with a 1-4 record when Tittle looped his "alley oop" pass to the 6-foot-3 Owens.

The tightly fought battle went down to the last four minutes with the score tied 10-all. Tommy Davis' field goal with 3:09 left gave the 49ers a brief lead. A 30-yard scoring aerial from Ed Brown to Jim Dooley put the Bears ahead 17-13 with 1:54 to go.

A ball-hawking defense was highly responsible for the Colts victory over the Packers, who now have lost two straight after winning their first three games. Linebacker Bill Pellington's 30-yard run with an interception accounted for one TD. Two others were set up by a 25-yard punt return by Johnny Sample and Ray Brown's 44-yard scamper with another interception.

The Giants scored on their first two offensive plays, Charlie Conerly pitching strikes of 77 and 28 yards to Frank Gifford on successive plays within 41 seconds. But Sam Huff's five-yard dash to pay dirt with a recovered fumble in the fourth quarter turned out to be the clincher for New York, which staved off a Steeler last-minute threat on the 6. Pittsburgh now has a 2-3 record.

Plum completed 13 of 18 tosses for 253 yards and equalled his entire TD output for the Browns (3-2) first four games. He passed 76 and 15 yards to Bobby Mitchell for touchdowns and hit Preston Carpenter and Ed Modzelewski with 12 and 10-yarders for scores. Jimmy Brown chipped in with 122 yards rushing and scored once against the Redskins (2-3), who played without regular quarterback Eddie LeBaron.

With their defense stopping the sensational Los Angeles (2-3) running attack, the Lions (1-4) turned two pass interceptions and a fumble into the points need to win. Ken Webb and Dan Lewis scored the Detroit touchdowns on short plunges as Earl Morrall went all the way at quarterback in place of regular signal-caller Tobin Rote.

Trailing 24-0, the Eagles (3-2) overtook the Cards (1-4) when quarterback Norm Van Brocklin began to find the range. He pitched 29 and 22 yards to Tommy McDonald for TDs, the last one with three minutes left putting Philadelphia in front.

Smith, Joseph, Schulte Score For Leopards

Midland turned in one of its best all around performances of the 1959 season to shut out Hopewell, 24-0, Saturday night at Aliquippa High School Stadium.

The Leopards, who are on their way to one of their best seasons—recordwise—copped their sixth win in seven outings. The only loss was to Bradstock.

Big Movie Smith scored twice for Coach John Petchel's forces. Smith, who is moved to fullback on the offensive squad, scored on plunges from the 5-yard line both times in the second period.

Martin Schulte streaked 33 yards for another Midland touchdown in the third quarter and Chuck Joseph, Midland's defensive back, intercepted a Hopewell pass and rambled 30 yards for the fourth touchdown in the final period.

Smith's first TD was set up on the accurate throwing arm of quarterback Ken Russell who turned in another fine job of ball handling and faking.

Russell hit end Gene Lake for gains of 40 and 15 yards to place the pigskin on the 5-yard line where Smith took it over.

Smith's second touchdown followed a 60-yard drive. Russell also showed he could run with the ball when he went 30 yards in the third quarter and moved the ball to the Hopewell 33 where Schulte raced the remaining distance for the touchdown.

A strong Midland defensive unit led by Smith, who doubles at tackle on defense, and guard Gene Gerra kept Hopewell at bay throughout the contest.

The deepest penetration by Hopewell reached the Midland 29. The victory also increased Midland's chances of winning the Beaver County Class "A" crown for the second straight season. The Leopards have won five straight against Beaver County opponents.

second and third period then capped the scoring with a touchdown in the final 12 minutes.

Poland's first touchdown came on a three-yard jaunt by Duncan Ingraham. John Talbott scored the second on a 44-yard pass play from Ingraham and Jim Strook crossed the goal after taking a 36-yard pass from Bob Ludi.

Jerry McLain went seven yards for the first touchdown of the second half. Ludi tallied from the 1-yard line and John Allen scored on a 25-yard pass play to cap the scoring.

Little tallied two of Leetonia's touchdowns on a 4-yard run and the other from the three. Dave Maery, one of the top ten district scorers, ran 10 yards for the Bears' final TD.

The loss left Leetonia with a 1-5 record, while Poland won its third game in six starts.

In Homecoming Tilt

Beaver Local Tops Rebels, 26-6, For Second Victory

Beaver Local had its second victory of the season tucked neatly away today after conquering Fairfield-Waterford, 26-6, to climax a successful homecoming Saturday.

The Beavers of Coach Jack O'Rourke struck for two touchdowns in the second period, then added a pair in the fourth quarter.

Fairfield-Waterford only hit the scoring columns once and that came in the third quarter.

Halfback Jim Shingleton provided the scoring punch for Beaver Local which has lost four of its six starts this season.

Shingleton scored the first touchdown in the second quarter on a short sprint from 3 yards out. Bill Dunn ran for the extra points for an 8-0 margin.

Shingleton's other TD came in the third period on a 4-yard run. Carl Hoppel turned in the longest touchdown run of the day when he raced 25 yards to paydirt in the second period.

Gary Williams wrapped up the scoring on 34-yard pass play from Fred Needs.

A pass going from Tom Messenger to Dan Brothers for 11 yards netted the visiting Rebels their only touchdown.

Plum Flips Four Passes For TDs

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP)—"For the first time this year we looked like I want us to look—and man, it's a wonderful feeling."

That was Coach Paul Brown's reaction to Sunday's 34-7 win over the Washington Redskins—and when the canny mentor is satisfied with his Cleveland Browns the rest of the National Football League figures to be in for some trouble.

Brown had cause for elation. Quarterback Milt Plum completed 13 of 18 passes. After missing the first three, Plum hit for 253 yards and four touchdowns—the quartet of scores matching his total for the first four games.

And Jim Brown, the big fullback, picked up 122 yards in 17 carries, including one dazzling 30-yard touchdown jaunt. That gave Jim 559 yards in 126 tries this year, and total of 3,023 yards for his two-plus seasons with the Browns.

On the defensive side the Browns intercepted four passes, held for four downs after Washington had reached the four-yard line, and had only one lapse—a 28-yard scoring pass from quarterback Ralph Guglielmi to end Bill Anderson.

The conquest shoved the Browns into a 3-2 deadlock with Philadelphia for second place in the Eastern Division. Asked about next week's game with the champion Baltimore Colts, Western Division leaders with 4-1, Brown said:

"We haven't thought about that one this week. And I'd like to have the rest of the day to enjoy this victory before I start thinking about the Colts at all."

Eddie LeBaron, mite signal-caller for the "Skins, did not see action due to an ankle injury. Guglielmi was hurt in the first quarter, began to limp badly in the fourth, and finally gave way to Eagle Day, rookie from Mississippi, who completed three of four passes for 40 yards.

"I was disappointed in our offense," Washington coach Mike Nixon said. "It seems you have to score 28 points to have a chance to win in this league. The Browns were better than we thought they'd be, and that Plum is a good quarterback. With Plum throwing well, things open up for the big guy (Jim Brown) and he really scares you."

Brown agreed. He said: "We're getting better. Washington is committed to a gambling defense and we guessed right several times, especially on screen and flare passes. Our passing was good enough to keep us moving, and those pass interceptions our defense came up with halted Washington. Jim Shofner, who picked off two Redskins passes, is loosening up on defense and will be a big help."

Bob Mitchell, former Big Ten sprint king from Illinois, was Plum's No. 1 receiver as he grabbed three for a 107-yard total and two touchdowns. The first score was a 76-yarder on a flare pass, with which Mitchell scooted down the sideline. The other was a 15-yarder. In the fading moments Plum hit Preston Carpenter for 12 and Ed Modzelewski for 10 for touchdowns.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Nick Musuraca, who has been starting at fullback for Denison University this season, ran wild Saturday in Denison's 37-8 victory over Franklin and Marshall. Musuraca, only a freshman at the Granville school, scored twice on runs of 38 and 42 yards and picked up 113 yards rushing.

Weirton Madonna Hands South Side 20-7 Defeat

WEIRTON—Striking paydirt twice in the second quarter, Weirton Madonna went on to hand South Side of Hookstown a 20-7 setback here Saturday night.

Freshman halfback Jerry Solter skirted the right side for 13 yards and a touchdown following a 65-yard drive early in the second quarter. Dave Wargecki kicked the extra point for a 7-0 margin.

Later in the same period Pete Battista went over from 10 yards out after a 60-yard drive and Wargecki ran for the extra point.

Jack Andrews scooted 10 yards for the final Madonna touchdown in the third period.

South Side, which threatened once in the third quarter by driving to the Madonna one-yard line, fumbled to end the drive as the Weirton eleven recovered.

Coach Dave Nichols' Rams went to the air lanes in the fourth quarter to score when quarterback Dan Frasier hit end Dan Parsons with a touchdown pass that covered 30 yards.

Frasier kicked the extra point. The loss was South Side's fifth in seven games. Madonna is 3-3.

Central Runs Winning String To Six Straight

STEBENVILLE—The strong arm of quarterback Joe Polshaw, who is in the running for all-state honors, paced Steubenville Central to a 20-8 victory over 10th ranked Cincinnati Elder here Saturday night.

Central will have a perfect 6-0 record to take against the East Liverpool Potters next Saturday night at Steubenville's Harding Stadium.

The powerful Crusaders struck with lightning quickness late in the first quarter and early in the second period.

With seven seconds left in the first quarter, Polshaw hit his favorite receiver—end John Kenny—with a 39-yard touchdown pass.

Moving into the second period, only 31 seconds had ticked off since the first touchdown when Polshaw uncorked another touchdown pass to Kenny. The play covered 30 yards.

Polshaw then passed to Brian Moore for the extra points.

Central tallied its third touchdown when Polshaw went over from the one-yard line to climax a 61-yard drive on the ground.

Elder finally hit paydirt late in the third quarter on a 73-yard scoring drive. Steve Tensi wheeled over from 12 yards out as he raced wide around the left side. Tensi also added the extra points.

Steubenville stuck to the ground throughout the second half.

The Chicago Cubs will have a working agreement with Houston for the 1960 season.

Wings Lose To Montreal

By The Associated Press

Two surprising streaks are over and the National Hockey League seems to have a more normal look today with the big, bad Montreal Canadiens leading the pack and threatening to pull away.

The Canadiens put together a big parlay over the weekend, pulling into a first-place tie with Detroit Saturday by crushing Boston 5-1. Montreal then shoved the Red Wings back to second Sunday night with a 2-1 decision, snapping Detroit's unbeaten string at six.

Meanwhile, the New York Rangers broke a string of seven straight home losses and finally got out of last place.

Goals by Dean Prentice, Red Sullivan and Eddie Shack, combined with Gump Worsley's alert goal-tending, gave the Rangers a 3-1 victory over the hapless Chicago Black Hawks in Sunday night's other game. The Hawks, now solely in the basement, still have a streak going—seven winless games since they won their opener from New York three weeks ago.

Boom Boom Geoffrion was the big man for the Canadiens, rifling home a 60-foot screen shot with 78 seconds left to break a 1-1 tie against Detroit. Don Marshall of Montreal and Jim Morrison of Detroit had scored the earlier goals.

Everything At Stake In LSU-Mississippi Clash This Week

Bengals Push Winning Streak To 17 Straight

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

The national college football championship could be settled Saturday night in Baton Rouge, La., when Louisiana State and Mississippi clash.

To the victor probably will go not only the national title, but the Southeastern Conference crown and the host spot in the Sugar Bowl on New Year's Day.

LSU, the defending champion, is nursing a 17-game winning streak. The Bengals from the bayou, have not permitted a touchdown. The only scoring against them has been two paltry field goals.

Mississippi, No. 4 team in the current Associated Press poll, has been playing second fiddle to LSU for two years now. This is Ole Miss' opportunity to become top dog.

Mississippi's defense is almost as rock-ribbed as Louisiana State's. Just seven points—one touchdown and a conversion by Tulane—have been scored against this club.

LSU warmed up to its task by shutting out Florida, 9-0, last Saturday while Mississippi was whitewashing Arkansas, 28-0.

In Dallas, Texas, the surprise power of the Southwest Conference, could wrap up the title—and the Cotton Bowl spot—by beating Southern Methodist, the team that was supposed to be the league bigwig before the start of the season.

Texas has won six games without defeat this season, and ranks No. 3 in the AP poll behind LSU and Northwestern. The Longhorns turned back Rice, 28-6, Saturday. This is strictly a put-up-or-shut-up task for SMU. A defeat and the Mustangs are just about out of the race.

Northwestern, a 30-24 winner over Notre Dame, gets back into Big Ten action against Indiana. The Wildcats seem to be getting stronger as the season progresses, and now rate heavy favorites to win the title and make the trip to the Rose Bowl.

Some of the other conferences also have begun to take shape. In the Atlantic Coast Conference, Clemson heads the list with a spotless 4-0 record, and appears to be the class of the league. The Citadel took over first place in the Southern Conference with makes nose cones for missiles.

a 3-0 mark after whipping Furman, 18-14.

In the Big Eight, the hopes of the spear-carriers have just about evaporated. They thought this might be the year Oklahoma folded. But the Sooners show a 3-0 record, having beaten Kansas, 7-6, last Saturday. This week they meet Nebraska and figure to make it 4-0 league victories in a row.

North Texas State, one of the nine remaining major teams that sport an undefeated-untied record, can just about wrap up the Missouri Valley championship Saturday against Wichita. The Eagles nipped Houston, 7-6, for victory No. 6 Saturday.

Yale, the only unbeaten-untied-unscored on major team in the country, still has a tussle in its efforts to wrap up the Ivy League title. The Bulldogs crushed Colgate, 21-0, Saturday, but meet tough Dartmouth this week and even tougher Penn next Saturday.

Wyoming practically wrapped up the Skyline Conference crown by defeating Utah, 21-7, while Adams State looks to be the best in the Rocky Mountain Conference. The Indians beat New Mexico, 20-6, for their sixth straight without defeat, in a non-league encounter Saturday.

Except for Arkansas, No. 10, which ran into the Mississippi steamroller, all the teams in the AP top 10, came through a a formidable weekend.

Southern California, No. 5 and the class of the West Coast, turned back Stanford, 30-28; Eastern titan Syracuse, No. 6, crushed West Virginia, 44-0; Auburn stopped Miami, 21-6; Penn State vanquished Illinois, 20-9, and Georgia Tech, No. 9, trounced Tulane, 21-13.

New Jersey Attorney Wins In Seniors Golf

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP) — A 56-year-old Plainfield, N. J., attorney is the new champion of the North and South Seniors Golf Tournament.

Walter Pease captured the week long match play tournament Saturday with a 4 and 3 victory over Paul Dunkel, 65, of Hackensack, N. J.

Pease captured four of the final six holes to win in a steady rain.

WITH THIS basket by Jack Twyman the Cincinnati Royals took the lead in the closing seconds of Sunday's NBA game and managed to skin through to a 103-102 win over the Minneapolis Lakers. Moments later the Lakers had a chance to win but lost it on the free-throw line. Following Twyman in is "Hot Rod" Hundley and Elgin Baylor. Twyman scored 37 points in this game. (UPI Telephoto)

Eye First Title In 23 Years

Wildcats Back To Big 10 Competition This Weekend

By The Associated Press

Northwestern's undefeated Wildcats return home and to Big Ten competition this week with high hopes of taking another step toward their first championship in 23 years.

And in the Big Ten race—where five teams still harbor title hopes—there's no place like home.

Purdue, Wisconsin and Michigan State scored victories on their own grounds Saturday to remain in contention with Northwestern and Illinois.

Purdue smacked Iowa's lame duck champions 14-7; Wisconsin battered Ohio State 12-3 and Michigan State defeated Indiana 14-6.

Northwestern kept its perfect record intact with a 30-24 decision over Notre Dame, Illinois dropped a 20-9 intersectional decision to Penn State and Michigan retained the Little Brown Jug by clipping Minnesota 14-6.

The home advantage has been especially pronounced in Western Conference play this season. All told, 16 games have been played and the home team has won 11.

Northwestern (3-0) is the only contender to win twice on the road. Wisconsin, Purdue, Michigan State and Illinois are all 2-1 and in each case the loss was suffered away from home.

If the home advantage stands up the rest of the season, Purdue and Wisconsin appear headed for trouble. Each must play three of four remaining games on the road.

Two of Northwestern's four games are away.

Since no team has ever won the championship with two defeats, Northwestern is the only contender which can afford a loss and still win or finish in a tie.

This week's results could sidetrack one or more hopefuls. Northwestern is home against Indiana, Purdue is at Illinois, Wisconsin at Michigan and Michigan State at Ohio State.

Minnesota and Iowa take on non-conference foes, Kansas State is at Iowa and Vanderbilt at Minnesota.

Either Purdue or Illinois will be eliminated unless they play to a tie. Both Wisconsin and Michigan State will have to win or tie away from home to stay in contention.

'Wait Until Next Year,' Is Cry At Ohio State

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—"Wait 'til next year" looms as an appropriate battle cry for Ohio State rooters today.

The Buckeyes lost a vital win-or-out contest to Wisconsin Saturday and saw their Big Ten title hopes virtually vanish.

The fired-up Badgers, scoring a touchdown, safety and field goal, sloshed their way to a 12-3 triumph in a mud-splattered battle.

It would take a near-miracle for Coach Woody Hayes' team to earn a trip to Pasadena this year. A Big Ten championship has never been won by a team with two setbacks, and Ohio State already has two.

Wisconsin's key victory saw: Ohio State's one-game winning streak abruptly snapped.

The Bucks lose to Wisconsin for the first time since 1946.

A Hayes-coached team lose to the Badgers for the first time.

Hayes himself summed it up this way:

"We were beaten by a better ball club. I thought we could get back in the game there in the third quarter. . . but we just didn't capitalize on our breaks. That has been our biggest shortcoming all season long."

Michigan State is next for the Buckeyes who face the Spartans, Indiana and Iowa in their final home engagements.

Elsewhere on the Ohio scene, undefeated Bowling Green (5-0) basked in the limelight as the Falcons solidified their hold on first place in the Mid-American Conference and grabbed the top rung in the statewide standings.

The BeeGees, driving for their first MAC crown since 1956, dumped Kent State, 25-8, at Oxford, Miami upended Ohio University, 24-0, ousting the Bobcats from the unbeaten.

John Carroll, which rolled to its fourth straight, lacing Case Tech, 48-6, is Ohio's only other unbeaten, untied team.

The Mid-American picture may take on a clearer outlook Saturday when Bowling Green clashes with Miami. The winner appears a cinch to go all the way.

Ohio U. figures to get back to winning ways against Western Michigan this week. A loss would eliminate the Bobcats from the race.

Wooster, the Ohio Conference leader, went outside the loop to beat St. Lawrence, 41-20. The Scots are being pressed for the lead by Heidelberg and Otterbein.

Heidelberg jumped into contention with a 7-6 win over rugged Muskingum. The Student Princes scored in the final minute of play and Bill Lynch booted the vital extra point.

Otterbein got by Marietta, 16-12, as the losing Pioneers were stopped on the Cardinals' one-yard line in the final minute of play.

Wittenberg handed Capital its second straight conference loss, 27-21, but had to withstand a furious second half rally by the Lutherans. Al White picked up his 11th and 12th touchdowns of the year for the losers.

Bluffton, Mid-Ohio league front-runner, whipped Wilmington, 18-6, while Findlay and Ashland, deadlocked for second place, battled to an 8-8 tie.

In other games, Cincinnati topped College of Pacific, 21-14, as time ran out on the losers. COP had the ball on the Bearcats' one-foot line when the game ended.

Quarterback Ed Thomas kicked a 30-yard field goal to provide Xavier with a 3-0 win over Dayton. The Flyers, dropping their fifth straight, blew numerous chances to score and had two touchdowns called back.

Dayton meets Villanova this week, cross-town rivals Xavier and Cincinnati lock horns and Otterbein battles Heidelberg in the feature Ohio Conference contest.

Potter-Beaver Reserve Game Is Postponed

The reserve game between Beaver and East Liverpool scheduled for this afternoon at Patterson Field has been postponed because of the Beaver varsity game which was postponed last weekend has been set for tonight.

Twyman Sets Hot Scoring Pace In NBA

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Royals are essentially the same club that played doormat in the National Basketball Assn. last season. That the Royals now happen to be the early leaders of the NBA's Western Division is probably because Jack Twyman is a year older and classier.

The former University of Cincinnati ace has scored at a 38-point pace while leading the Royals to two victories in three games.

Estimates that scoring champ Bob Pettit of St. Louis has his biggest worry from Philadelphia's rookie Wilt Chamberlain might prove to be a little hasty.

In Cincinnati's three games, Twyman has scored successively 38, 39 and 37 points. He bagged 37 Sunday afternoon as the Royals nipped Minneapolis 103-102. Twyman's steal and last minute fielder broke a 101-all tie.

Twyman's overshadowed the Lakers' Elgin Baylor, who added 30 points for a three-game total of 105 and a 33-point average.

Twyman's 39 came Saturday in the Royals' 108-103 victory over Detroit. The Saturday program also saw Chamberlain score 43 points, grab 28 rebounds and block a half dozen shots as the Warriors whipped New York 118-109. Boston won its second straight, downing Syracuse 121-109 and Minneapolis beat St. Louis 94-87 in other Saturday games.

TO THE PEOPLE OF EAST LIVERPOOL

In these last few weeks while campaigning for the office of Mayor of East Liverpool, I have met and talked with many people who are dissatisfied with conditions in our city. I agree with them that these conditions can be improved and the following are some of the things I will do to bring about changes in these conditions after I am elected Mayor.

I

- (A) I pledge to the people of East Liverpool, that I will give to them a CLEAN, HONEST and COMPETENT administration.
- (b) That I will maintain an OPEN DOOR POLICY in the Mayor's office in the city building.

II

I pledge to you a program of better service to the taxpayers by keeping streets and alleys CLEAN and PASSABLE in all sections of the city.

III

I pledge to you full cooperation with County and State Officials in obtaining the necessary aid to carry out a street and road improvement program.

IV

- (a) I Pledge to you that when I assume the duties of the Mayor's Office in our city, I will appoint a PART TIME dog warden to control the animal situation in our city in a capable and humane way.
- (b) I feel that the duties of a dog warden in our city do not warrant a full time warden.

These are not wild, rash CURBSTONE promises, but are pledges to the citizens that I CAN and WILL fulfill after I am elected Mayor on Tuesday, November 3.

Lane Is Ready To Make Move In New Class

By The Associated Press

Kenny Lane, the perennial lightweight contender from Muskegon, Mich., moves up to the welterweight class Wednesday at Washington to take on ex-champ Virgil Akins.

After losing a tight one to Joe Brown in a lightweight title match last year, Lane ventured into the newly re-established junior welter division. He was beaten on a cut eye in the second round of a bout with Carlos Ortiz, June 12.

Lane took a four-month vacation to let the cuts heal and now is ready to make his move in the 147-pound division. His career record for 63 fights is 56-4-3.

The Michigan southpaw may get a taste of his own medicine from Akins, originally a left-hander who occasionally shifts back to his old style. Akins at his peak was a savage puncher. He knocked out Vince Martinez last year to win the title and then lost it in an uninspired effort against Don Jordan. He failed to recapture the crown from Jordan in an April 24 rematch at St. Louis. His record stands at 50-23-1 for 74 starts.

The 10-round match at the new Capitol Arena will be seen on ABC network television. Florentino Fernandez, winner of 21 straight, had been knocking out almost every opponent (15 straight) until he met Mexico's Gaspar Ortega, Sept. 11 at Miami Beach. The Cuban beat Ortega, too, but he didn't knock him out.

Fernandez, 23, has the shoulders of a heavyweight. He dropped Ortega twice but couldn't put him away. It was the Cuban's second U.S. victory. He had stopped Stefan Redl in his Garden debut, June 1.

The Fernandez-Ortega rematch will be held at Madison Square Garden Friday night with the customary NBC radio and TV coverage.

Aim At Faster, Simpler, Cheaper Justice

Courts In West Virginia Will Be Under New Rules

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia courts soon will operate under new rules intended to make civil suits hinge more on the merits and less on lawyers' skill with technicalities.

The new rules of civil procedure which go into effect next July 1 are designed to make justice faster, simpler and cheaper. Advocates of the new rules say many civil trials will be avoided altogether, as a result of a "discovery" procedure new to West Virginia courts and pre-trial conferences.

Last Tuesday the State Supreme Court entered the order which will put the streamlined rules into effect July 1, 1960. Their adoption culminates an effort dating back to 1950, when the West Virginia State Bar set up a 12-man committee to draft proposed new rules of civil procedure. Charleston attorney Thomas B. Jackson has headed the Committee on Civil Rules throughout its existence.

Only civil suits in trial courts will be affected. The new rules do not apply to appeals or criminal cases. About 80 per cent of the civil cases are damage actions, such as suits arising from automobile accidents.

The new rules are patterned after civil rules that have been in effect in federal courts since 1938, but changes have been made to adapt the federal rules to West Virginia conditions.

One of the chief innovations for state courts is adoption of a discovery procedure similar to that used in federal courts. In advance of trial, one side in a civil case will be able to find out what witnesses the other side plans to call and also to require the other side to produce documents relating to the controversy.

Because of this and other changes, every lawyer should be able "to come to trial almost as familiar with his opponent's case as with his own. Trial by ambush is abolished."

The quotation is from the introduction, by Jackson and Charleston attorney Hillis Townsend, to a State Bar pamphlet containing a draft of the rules. Townsend, a member of the Public Service Commission, is vice chairman of the Committee on Civil Rules.

The new rules will help parties to suits, who pay the legal fees, understand what their lawyers are doing.

No longer will there be a variety of types of action known by such lawyer-baffling terms as "suit in assumpsit" and "trespass on the case." There will be but one form of suit, known as a "civil action."

The new rules do away with such pleadings as demurrers, pleas in bar and pleas in abatement.

A major change is elimination, so far as procedure is concerned, of the distinction between suits at law and chancery cases. The difference has been a matter of legal technicality and both types of case have been tried before the same judge.

Even so, the choice between bringing a suit at law and a suit in chancery, or equity, has been a vital one for lawyers. Many cases have been reversed because the lawyer chose the wrong "side of court." The new rules will eliminate this hazard.

While some West Virginia courts already employ the pre-trial conference, proponents expect the new rules to encourage greater use of this procedure. At a pre-trial conference with the judge, opposing parties and attorneys determine what can be agreed upon in advance, so as to avoid unnecessary proof at the trial itself.

The new rules speed up the time schedule for answering complaints and bringing cases to trial. When a suit is instituted under the present rules, the defendant is notified to appear on rule day at the next term of court. Under the new rules, the summons will require the defendant to file his answer within, in most cases, 20 days. Rule days will be abolished.

The written forms used in civil suits will be greatly shortened and simplified. The sample form for the complaint in a suit for damages arising from negligence is just three paragraphs long.

In the fall of 1957, the membership of the State Bar voted 1,035 to 289 in favor of adoption of the new rules. The West Virginia Judicial Council, without a dissenting vote, in October, 1957, recommended to the Supreme Court that the rules be put into effect.

ABC On U.S., Steelworkers Struggle

T-H Act Fight May Go To High Court

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on the court struggle between the government and the Steelworkers' Union over the question of stopping their strike for 80 days.

Although the government in 16 previous cases has been able to stop strikes by using the 1947 Taft-Hartley Act, the right of the government to do so has never gone to the Supreme Court for a test. This one may.

The Taft-Hartley Act says whenever a president thinks a strike will "imperil national health and safety," he can try to stop or prevent it for 80 days through a federal court injunction.

The present steel strike, which began July 15, directly involves 500,000 steelworkers and mills which turn out 85 per cent of the nation's steel.

In time, as steel supplies dwindle, other workers and industries dependent on steel in one way or another have been affected. Now an additional 280,000 men are idle. The longer the strike, the worse the effect.

Kaiser Steel Co. cracked the solid front of the 104-day strike Sunday night when it said it would sign a separate agreement with the union. Kaiser, the nation's 12th largest producer, employs 10,615 workers and produces about 2 per cent of the nation's steel. The other 11 companies that had been represented by an industry negotiating team said their position will not be changed by Kaiser's action.

Last Monday President Eisenhower said national health and safety were in peril and ordered the Justice Department to seek a federal court injunction stopping the strike for 80 days. That began the legal fight.

In Pittsburgh a U.S. district judge, Herbert P. Sorg, without asking questions of the union or the government granted the request for an injunction. The union then took the next step.

It asked the Third Circuit Court of Appeals to throw out the injunction. The three-judge court held up the injunction—leaving the steelworkers still on strike—until it could hear arguments and decide.

It will give its opinion early this week. Unless the union and the mills have reached a settlement, the union or the government will appeal to the Supreme Court, depending on what the appellate court decides.

Arthur J. Goldberg, lawyer for the union, argued against an injunction on two main grounds:

1. This strike is not, and will not be for a long time, a menace to national safety and health. It is not enough for the President to say it is. He must show it. In the end it is up to the court to decide whether or not the strike is really a peril.

He argued it is not enough to show the strike is causing economic damage to the country—he admits it is causing some—so long as the national health and safety, as specified in the Taft-Hartley law, are not hurt.

2. Goldberg argued that the section of Taft-Hartley which authorizes the government to seek an injunction from a federal court is unconstitutional. Why?

Under the Constitution, he said in effect, federal judges are supposed to judge the issues in a controversy between two parties, deciding who's right and who's wrong or whether one side or the other has done something illegal.

The union committed no wrong in striking he went on. It has a right to strike. So, to issue an injunction would make a federal court an administrative, instead of a judicial, agent of the government.

Administrative for this reason: an injunction would not be issued to prevent a wrong or stop a crime but only to give the government time to try to get both sides in the strike to reach a settlement.

Goldberg contended this is contrary to the job of federal courts and therefore unconstitutional.

The government, through George C. Doub, assistant attorney general in charge of the civil division, basically answered Goldberg's two main arguments this way:

1. The President surely is in a position to know what he is talking about when he says the strike has become a peril to national health and safety.

2. Taft-Hartley, in a case like this, was intended to protect the nation from damage. And surely, he argued, the government has the right to enlist the help of the court in protecting the nation. He denied granting an injunction would be an administrative act.

Family Style Diet Challenges Homemaker

"I'm at my wit's end trying to cook. Two members of my family have a weight problem, my husband and 13-year-old daughter. The doctor prescribed pills to help my husband lose but the pills don't come back on. My daughter's weight goes up and UP. My teen-age boys need nourishing meals and I can't cut down on them just because two fatties won't try to limit themselves. Any suggestions?"

This situation presents a stimulating challenge, and one that many a homemaker has to face. Get over the notion that overweight members need a special diet. The basic family menu can be the same for all members.

Homemakers, instead of feeling that you are short-changing the normal weight members of the family, take the attitude that you are doing them a distinct favor to encourage food habits that veer away from overly rich food.

GROWING BOYS need good quality protein, properly cooked vegetables, salads, milk whole grain cereal and fruit.

For years, family meals have been planned for those who have no weight worries. The overweight members of the family are expected to muster the will power to cut down.

It would make for happier family relations to give the overweight a break by having the basic meal one which conforms to today's lower calorie needs. It will be easy enough for the normal weights and teen-agers to add calories in good bread and butter, whole milk and simple desserts.

Breakfast is no problem and a good breakfast provides the best start for the day for dieters and all member of the family. Lunch is usually eaten away from home.

Dinner is the meal that requires ingenuity on the part of the cook. Plan the menu around a protein food — lean meat, fish, fowl or eggs — and include only one starchy food. When gravy is made, de-fat the gravy by refrigerating the dripping.

Pour off part of the drippings when the roast is half cooked and chill this so the fat will come to the top. Skim this off. Cook vegetables quickly to retain their flavor, then sautes are not needed.

Instead of having a butter dish on the table, serve half pats to the dieters. For vegetables that cry out for butter in serving, use lemon juice in a small amount of melted butter. Experiment with herbs. With the squash family, nutmeg is delicious. Mint and chives are favorites on carrots.

When the meal is served family style, after everyone has been served, the platter should be quietly removed from the table. The boys can help themselves to seconds in the kitchen.

While the overweighters are trying to cut their appetites down to size, fattening desserts should be left off the menu. Experiment with low calorie desserts and whipped toppings.

When calories are spared behind the scene in this way, the dieter has far less difficulty. Crash diets and pills are no help! It's a wise homemaker who goes at low calorie cooking in a spirit of adventure.

Sisters Withdraw Radio Station Bid

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Sisters of Charity of Cincinnati are withdrawing an application filed last week for a commercial radio station in Cincinnati.

Mother Mary Omer, who heads the order, said Sunday she has directed withdrawal of the bid for an FM outlet to broadcast music, discussions of public issues and talks on health, preventive medicine, nursing and child care.

The Mother Superior declined to amplify the decision.

It was 130 years ago Tuesday that four Roman Catholic nuns stepped into the rugged life of a sprawling frontier town—Cincinnati—to care for orphans and teach a day school. They were members of the Sisters of Charity, an order founded 20 years before by Mother Elizabeth Seton at Emmitsburg, Md., to aid the young, the poor and ill.

In 1851, the Cincinnati order was set up and it now numbers 1,500 members doing works in seven states, the District of Columbia and Rome, Italy.

'Hungry,' Man Says In Shop-Lifting Arrest

Because he claimed he was hungry, a W. 4th St. man fled from a supermarket Saturday afternoon with a jar of instant coffee and a pint of ice cream.

Samuel Aaron Beck, 38, of 137 W. 4th St. was arrested at 6:33 p. m. Saturday on E. 4th St. by Patrolmen Paul Carter, Paul Burton Jr. and William Nott.

In a statement to the officers, Beck said he took the items, valued at 30 cents each, from the A. & P. Co. market on Walnut St. "because I was hungry."

Arraigned before Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw this morning, Beck pleaded guilty to a petty larceny charge and was fined $50 and costs.

Salem Meeting Slated By Children's Council

A nominating committee will be appointed at a meeting of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council Tuesday night at 8 p. m. at the Westminster House at Salem. Election will be held in November.

Atty. Charles Pike of Lisbon will explain the recent incorporation of the association under state law and the required changes of regulations. John Billiter of Salem is president.

Confident Living

What To Do About A Blue Day

Dr. Peale

A physician tells me that by proper exercise you can often stave off coronary attacks, or at least help to do so. He points out that the circulatory system itself needs exercise and goes on to quote a top medical school professor. "If you walk a mile a day, you're getting the best insurance against having a coronary." Since there seems to be something in what he says, I have been trying to walk a mile every day. As a result I've become convinced that, whatever the effect on the heart or physique, walking, breathing fresh air, studying people, and getting a sense of the surge and movement of life can lift a blue mood from the mind and change a blue day.

I had noticed that the swallows and swifts were going around in large low circles and the man unbuttoned enough to explain: "When the weather's bad, the insects are pushed toward the ground by the heavy air and, to catch them, the birds have to fly low. Then you can count on rain. When the insects fly higher, so do the birds and you count on good weather."

I SAW my new friend almost every morning and soon I could tell what the weather was like by his face, instead of the birds. If his countenance was dark, it was going to be a bad day; if it was a bit brighter, a good day. On the whole, he was a gloomy fellow. I once ventured to ask him why and he looked at me and said, "If you lived in weather like this all the time, you'd be gloomy, too."

Well, it is a fact that nature does effect our moods. We are of the earth and therefore earthy. We are part and parcel of the universe. If you're gloomy or blue, it may result from the weather. But, most of the time, it is more likely to come from something else—something within yourself, some negative attitudes or thoughts.

Personally, I've never found gloom in nature. Nature always has lifted my spirit. And I actually like a dark day from time to time. I find something stimulating in great billowing clouds—and there's always beauty in the thunder and lightning of a storm.

Nature is like life, after all. We should not always be looking for the soft qualities but learn to rejoice in its sterner qualities. As unpleasant as they may seem, the stern things of life are good for us.

What is the basic purpose of life if it is not to make men of us? And I mean strong, not weak, men. So when the tough stormy things come along and you tend to feel blue, put on some good shoes and take a long walk. As the blood surges through your body try passing some big faith thoughts through your mind. The walking and the thinking will drive off the gloom.

Then, whatever the weather, mental and spiritual sunshine will permeate your whole being. Try this and see if it isn't true. The habit of walking and praying is a pretty good cure for gloominess.

Teach Child To Eat Foods He Dislikes

By the time the child is two, and usually much earlier, he can feed himself. Let alone, he will not eat what he doesn't want. Nor will he take a food that he dislikes.

By Garry Meyers
I may try to spoon the food into his mouth. With either action, food dislikes are increased and intensified. If he is not eating enough foods for a nutritious, balanced diet, what is the mother to do? She may like which contain foods he will like which contain some of the basic elements of the rejected food. If, for example, he accepts little or no milk, she might disguise milk in puddings and various other foods. If he refused meats, she might substitute cheese, beans or other foods rich in protein.

BUT THE chances are that, at best, the substitutes won't provide enough of the essential nourishment contained in the food he rejected. In some instances, substitutions might prove a temporary expedient, but they will hardly suffice for a long - time diet. Still the problem remains to train the child gradually to eat the essential foods and enjoy them.

A workable way is to cut down on the foods he likes best. You may withhold them until he's so hungry he will eventually choose to eat some, later more, of the food or foods he had been rejecting.

Say you wish the tot, two, four or six, to eat some carrots, string beans or peas which he has been rejecting.

Begin with one of the vegetables. Serve just two peas, say, the first thing at the meal. Don't tell him to eat them, but tell him he may have no other food at this meal unless he does.

KEEP YOUR word. If he chooses to eat the two peas, let him have whatever foods he wishes for the rest of the meal.

If the food is carrots, give him only one thin disc; if string beans, a piece only an inch long, and so on.

Increase these amounts only a very little over many days, and when he begs for more of any one of them, be stingy. Thus the child always chooses, but you limit his choices.

My bulletin "Eating Problems" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Games To Be Dedicated To Fatally-Hurt Player

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The remaining games on Florida A&M University's 1959 football schedule will be dedicated to a promising freshman who was fatally injured in practice.

Oliver Joyce, 18, of Jacksonville, died Sunday of injuries suffered in making a tackle last Monday. He was a third string quarterback.

AN X-RAY VIEW

Shows the Difference

When you purchase a car there are some very important points that you never see that make the difference between a dependable car and a bucket of bolts.

An X-ray view would show these points as:

DEPENDABLE IGNITION
WELL TUNED MOTOR
STRONG BATTERY
BRIGHT LIGHTS
WARM HEATER
INSPECTED STEERING
CLEAR SAFETY GLASS
SPARKLING FINISH
CLEAN INTERIOR
GOOD TIRES
SAFE BRAKES

Because you never see most of these points your Franchised Dealer
checks them for you before you buy. Therefore when purchasing a used car make it a point to shop a Franchised Dealer listed below and get dependable transportation.

Don't be sorry — Be safe.

Coffee Spills,
Scalding Man

A city man, scalded on the foot by hot coffee, was admitted Sunday at City Hospital, where five young people and adults were treated over the weekend.

Edward Heddleston, 211 W. 7th St., is in "fair" condition with scalds of the left foot, on which hot coffee was spilled at home yesterday.

Roger McBee, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger McBee of R. D. 1, was treated for two puncture wounds of the right foot received when he jumped onto a board while at play yesterday.

Emory Dexter, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Dexter of Drain St., received a laceration of the scalp on a sun visor in an auto Sunday.

While playing football, Paul Burson, 26, of Rubicon St. suffered an injury of the left shoulder.

James Burdick, 18, of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1 was treated for a laceration of the finger suffered on a milk can at home.

Larry Laughlin, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Laughlin of Smiths Ferry R. D. 1, was treated Saturday for a fracture of the right arm suffered while playing football.

Two Gunmen Rob
Amish Youths Of $6

MILLERSBURG, Ohio (AP)—Two men with revolvers jumped from an automobile alongside a horse-drawn buggy on Ohio 241 near Mount Hope Sunday night and told two Amish youths in the buggy to "throw your wallets on the road if you don't want your brains blown out." Holmes County Sheriff Harry Weiss reported.

Lester Hostetter, 17, of near Beach City, and Dan Hershberger, 17, of near Apple Creek, told the sheriff they did as they were told. They lost $6.

FOR OLD TIRED
LINOLEUM

It's so easy to put new wear and life in old linoleum. A bright shining coat of Glaxo is the answer.

A Glaxo floor is glass-like in appearance, yet it non slip. It practically cares for itself since it seals out dirt and a swish of the mop is all that's necessary. You don't wax a Glaxo floor. Make the old linoleum do with Glaxo. MILLIGAN'S.

One Of 2 Who Broke Out Of Jail Captured

CINCINNATI (AP) — Edgar S. Queens of Cincinnati, one of two men who broke out of Covington, Ky., jail last week, is back in custody.

But police said Sunday he won't tell the whereabouts of his partner in the escape, Denny Ray Murphy, 35, of Cincinnati.

The two last Thursday used a makeshift key made of a tobacco tin to open two jail doors. They went down a dumb-waiter to a kitchen and walked out a back door, police said.

Queens, 41, was arrested in a downtown bar Sunday after someone recognized him and called police.

Queens had been jailed on a breaking and entering charge. Murphy on a charge of armed robbery.

Timken Widow Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Lillian S. Timken, 78, widow of one of the founders of the Timken Roller Bearing Co., was found dead Saturday in her 34-room Fifth Avenue apartment, surrounded by litter and dusty works of art. She had lived as a recluse since the death of her husband, William R., in 1949. She was born in Chicago.

New Officers Chosen
By PTA At Oak Grove

New officers have been elected by the Oak Grove Parent-Teacher Association of Route 170 between Fredricktown and Negley.

Clarence Wolfe is president; Dale Pancake, vice president; Wilmer Guy, secretary, and Mrs. Elaine Linger, treasurer. John Garey is retiring president.

Mrs. Virginia Schultz and Mrs. Eeva Wolfe are lunch committee chairmen for a meeting Nov. 20 in the elementary school near Negley. A hand-operated rotary grater is a handy tool for shredding small ends of cheese.

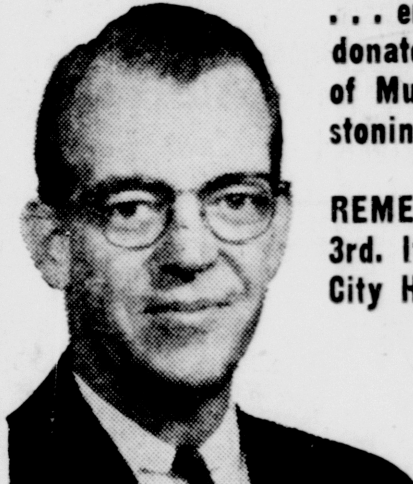

Chance . . . or, SKILL?

IT'S BEEN PROVEN! It takes SKILL to run a Million Dollar business . . . like our City. There's no room for Chance, Error or Waste . . . not when it's the People's money.

KNOW-HOW and intelligent Planning accounts for most of our Progress in these past 2 years . . . that, plus the co-operation of an inspired Citizenry. Top aim now, is to complete the job of "Righting Our City".

CERTAINLY, it's a far cry from those bleak days when Police were under a cloud . . . City Services a shambles . . . employees being furloughed . . . and we operated on donated equipment. We were rapidly approaching the brink of Municipal Bankruptcy. No amount of "political curb-stoning" can discount that.

REMEMBER all that, when you go to the Polls on Nov. 3rd. It's YOU who must risk a revival of "fumbling" in City Hall . . . or, continue with—
